The Gladiator to be presented at the opera house next Monday, Dec. 1, by Sanford Dodge and company is an incomparable production of superior worth. Press and public have united in declaring it the most artistic and best interpreted classic production of the present season. It is unquestionably the real dramatic event of the local season, and the theater goers of this community who seek the very best in dramatic art cannot afford to miss this delightful performance.

Those persons who always associate Shakespeare with tragedy will be surprised when they witness Sanford Dodge's production of "The Taming of the Shrew," Tuesday, Dec. 2, to find that the Bard of Avon could also write comedy of the highest order. The story of the play is very clever. A young woman of unplesant disposition is wooed and won against her will and afterwards "tamed" so to speak, by her husband, to subdue his always irate wife furnish the abundance of comedy in the play. To accompany this piece Mr. Dodge presents a comedy curtain raiser entitled "Grin-coire."

Rev. T. J. Giblett, of Sterling, Col., will supply the Baptist pulpit for the winter months and may possibly settle here as the permanent pastor of that church. The reverend gentleman occupied the pulpit last Sunday for the first time. He is very favorably impressed with North Dakota and thinks that Cooperstown is an up-to-date little city—which is the verdict of everybody. Mr. Giblett has a wife and son and they will come here just as soon as he can get a house or rooms in which they can live.
