Those persons who always associate Shakespeare with tragedy will be surprised when they witness Sanford Dodge's production of "The Taming of the Shrew," Tuesday, Dec. 2, to find that the Bard of Avon could also write comedy of the highest order. The story of the play is very clever. A young woman of unpleasant disposition is wooed and won against her will and afterwards "tamed" so to speak, by her husband, to subdue his always frate wife furnish the abundance of comedy in the play. To accompany this piece Mr. Dodge presents a comedy certain raiser entitled "Grin-coire."

The Lutheran aid society held their annual supper and fair in the Fire Hall last Thursday evening and the affair was a great success in every particular. The ladies always have lots of good things to eat and plenty of fancy articles for sale.

James Glass, of Helena, Mont., tarried in Cooperstown between trains last Friday, paying a short visit to his brother William. He was on his way home from the east. His call at Cooperstown was mighty short considering that he had not been here for 12 or 13 years.

If you are going to get married or if your friends are going to get married, just head them into the Courier to get some elegant wedding stationery. We can furnish you anything in this line, printed as neatly as you can get it done anywhere. Give us a trial order and you will want to get married again.

It will be County Commissioner O. S. Gunderson after Jan. 1st, 1903 he and Joseph Buchheit getting together last Tuesday and settling the tie by cutting cards, the high card to win the office. Ole made a stab at the deck and cut the eight spot and then Mr. Buchheit made a stab at the deck and carefully lifted a card—it was the deuce and beat him out of the commission. Mr. Buchheit has served the people of Griggs County on the board for twelve years or more and his work has been well done. He will retire from the office with the consciousness that he has done his duty well and to the entire satisfaction of the taxpayers. Mr. Gunderson his successor is a level headed business man, careful and conservative and THE COURIER believes will make a first class member of the board.

Startling, But True.
