Spaniels.

Spaniels, of which there are many breeds, are supposed to have first come from Spain, from which circumstance is derived their distinctive name. Charles I. was an ardent admirer of a small variety of this animal, and from that arose the designation of his pets, known the world over as King Charles, Blenheim or Marlborough spaniels, which greatly resemble the latter in form and general appearance, get their English name from Blenheim palace in Oxfordshire, where the breed has been preserved since the beginning of the eighteenth century.

SUDDEN DEATH.

It is Equally the Result of Long Neglect to Exercise.

In almost every daily paper are to be seen several announcements that some body has died suddenly. These sudden deaths are more liable to be men than women. Mr. So-and-so fell dead on the street or in his office while writing letters or preparing a sermon or doing something or other. "Found Dead in His Room" is becoming a very common headline. These deaths are hardly ever accounted for. Generally something is said about the heart—some vague insinuation that the heart was not acting in a proper manner—but, as a rule, no explanation which is really rational is furnished.

It is a well known fact that the heart is a muscle. If the muscles of the body are allowed to become flabby, the heart also becomes flabby. A flabby heart may be trusted to pump the blood through the system ordinarily, but a sudden fright or emergency, a sudden expenditure of energy, as in running up steps or any other unusual exercise, is liable to overpower the heart. It suddenly stops, and the man falls dead.

Tobacco tends to produce a flabby heart; whisky tends to produce enlargement of the heart; lazy, indolent habits weaken the heart and thin the ventricles. That man who indites editorials, dictates letters, but takes no muscular exercise, is in danger of falling dead. The life insurance man better steer clear of him. It is of vastly more importance to know what his habits are with reference to physical exercise than to know whether his grandmother died of heart disease or his grandfather had rheumatism. The doctor might a great deal better interview his wife and discover how the man behaves himself than to examine the blood for microbes or the urine for urate crystals.

If a man must be strenuous, let him be strenuous all-round. He should take a little strenuous physical exercise every day as well as strenuous mental work. It is even dangerous to neglect to take daily physical exercise. Fatty degeneration is killing more men today than is smallpox.—Medical Talk.

Notice and Citation, Hearing of Final Account and Distribution.

STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, County of Griggs.

In County Court, before Hon. W. L. Carleton, Judge.

In the matter of the guardianship of Josephine J. Stromme and Julia J. Stromme, Minors, Neils Hemmingson Petitioner, Josephine J. Stromme, and Julia J. Stromme Respondents.

Notice and Citation, Hearing of Final Account and Distribution of Estate. The State of North Dakota to the above named Respondents: You, the said Josephine J. Stromme and Julia J. Stromme are hereby notified that the final account of Neils Hemmingson guardian of Josephine J. Stromme and Julia J. Stromme of the County of Griggs and State of North Dakota, minors, has been rendered to this court, therein showing that the estate of said minors is ready for final settlement and distribution, and petitioning that his account be allowed, the residue of said estate be distributed to the persons thereto entitled, his guardianship closed and he be discharged; that Monday, the seventh day of September A. D. 1923, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the court room of this court in the County of Griggs, in the Town of Cooperstown, County of Griggs and State of North Dakota, has been duly appointed by this court for the settlement thereof, at which time and place any person interested in said estate may appear and file his objections, in writing, to said account and petition and contest the same. And you, the above named respondents and each of you are hereby cited and required then and there to be and appear before this court and show cause if any you have, why said account shall not be allowed, the residue of said estate distributed, the guardianship of said estate closed and said guardian discharged.

By the court, WILL H. CARLETON, Judge of the county court.
