The Courier has been requested to call the attention of those parties who allow their horses to roam at will over the town to the fact that there is a city ordinance in force providing a heavy fine. Horses have been bothering the citizens along the Boulevard the past two or three weeks. Trees are broken down as well as fences and sidewalks and it is about time owners of horses were made to understand that the village of Cooperstown is not a common pasture. By the time some of these people have been fined a few times they will realize that it will pay them to keep up their stock.

Two men were disputing over churches. One was a Methodist and the other a Baptist. Finally one of them called to a neighbor who was passing by and asked his opinion as to which was the only church in which to be saved. "Well, neighbors," said he, "son and I have been hauling wheat to mill for nigh on to forty years. Now there's two roads that lead to the mill. One's the valley road and t'other takes over the hill. Sometimes I go one and sometimes t'other. And never ye friends, has the miller asked me which road I took, but he always asks: "Is your wheat good?"

W. I. Nolan, one of the best humorists that ever stood on the American stage, will entertain the people of Cooperstown on the night of November 18th. He is said to be an entertainer who entertains and if you want to enjoy an evening of fun you should not fail to go and hear Mr. Nolan. Cooperstown people can certainly consider themselves lucky in getting him to come here and should turn out and give him a full house. You will more than get your money's worth.

The telephone directory for November shows up 185 'phones and several more have been placed in position since the November card was issued. Less than five years ago Mr. Goff applied for a franchise to put in an exchange. Our people, who had gotten along without this luxury for years, were backward in coming forward at first many of them saying that we had been without 'phones all these years and could get along without them now and as a result the exchange started up. It did not take long for those who didn't think they were necessary to find out that the 'phone was the most convenient thing in the world and those who did not want it soon got it and wouldn't be without it. Modern improvements are always looked upon as something we can get along without but we are always glad when we get them. Forty telephones was the number Mr. Goff started with. Today he has 180, which is an endorsement of his hard work and faithful service given the people of Cooperstown. His rural lines miles of which he has built, numbers over fifty 'phones. We have as good a local system as there is in the state and we hope that it will continue to prosper and grow until Mr. Goff cries enough.

Butler & Upton are building up a fine herd of shorthorns and sell their young stock just about as fast as they can raise them. Their success is due to their sticktoitiveness and the spending of a lot of money to build up a fine herd. They deserve success.

A rural route has been discontinued in the northern part of the state simply because those signing the petition did not get up a sufficient number of boxes. There are only about half of the boxes on our route that should be and if farmers want to retain this free mail delivery they should urge the neighbors to put up boxes. Every head of a family should put up a box. It is to be hoped that those living along the route will bear this in mind and get into the game.
