In the matter of the estate of Harmon W. Higby, deceased.

John Tracy, administrator,
Petitioner,
vs.
Frances M. Poyer and William H. Higby, Respondents.

Notice and Citation, Hearing of Final Account and Distribution of Estate.
The State of North Dakota to the above named Respondents:
You, the said Respondents and all other persons interested in the above entitled estate are hereby notified that the final account of the administration of the estate of Harmon W. Higby late of the town of Utica, in the county of LaSalle, and State of Illinois, deceased, has been rendered to this court, therein showing that the estate of said deceased is ready for final settlement and distribution, and petitioning that his account be allowed, and residue be distributed to the persons thereunto entitled. His administration closed and he be discharged; that Monday, the 12th day of September A. D. 1904 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the court rooms of this court, in the City of Cooperstown, County of Griggs and State of North Dakota, has been duly appointed by this court for the settlement thereof, at which time and place any person interested in said estate may appear and file his exceptions, in writing, to said account and petition and contest the same.
And you, the above named Respondents and each of you, are hereby cited and required to attend and there to be and appear before this court, and show cause, if any you have, why said account shall not be allowed, the residue of said estate distributed, the administration of said estate closed and said administration discharged.
Dated the 5th day of August A. D. 1904.
By the Court,
WILL H. CARLETON,
Judge of the County Court.

THE GENTLEMAN BURGLAR.

He Can Exist Only in Fiction, Never in Real Life.
Whenever a thief who is dressed otherwise than in rags falls into the police net there are chronicled the adventures of a "gentleman burglar."
Such a being is, of course, impossible. He is a literary creation, like the "Invisible Man," the Frankenstein monster, Kipling's Mowgli and the rest of the crew of prodigies that dwell within book covers.
As a character in fiction the "gentleman burglar" could be made plausible and picturesque, for when we get into the realm of fancy there is an implied contract that the reader shall accept the author's premises and not bother about possibilities.
A burglar is just a thief—about the meanest of thieves.
To a man endowed with qualities of refinement and consideration of others and honor—which are the attributes of a gentleman—burglary or other theft is impossible. The pride of such a man, his regard for his own opinion of himself, would prevent his sneaking into another man's house and taking his plate or his wife's jewelry. Then it must be remembered that the burglar is prepared to do murder to accomplish his robberies, and the idea of a gentleman committing murder for gain is too inconsistent even for fiction.
A "gentleman burglar" is a contradiction of terms, like a brave coward or a tall pygmy. He may be better dressed or his booty may be larger than that of most burglars, but when it is all summed up he is a thief—just a plain thief—with the moral code and impulses of a pickpocket or a card swindler or any other predatory creature whose natural home is a prison and whose deserved and fitting punishment is a suit of stripes.—New York American.
