The Nelson-Opfer Co. closed a deal last week whereby George Von Blon disposes of his squash farm near Lovell to Sam Davis. Mr. Davis will erect a fine set of buildings this fall and once more become a horny handed tiller of the soil in his old neighborhood. Mr. Von Blon will direct all his attention to his newly acquired farm northeast of town and may decide to run it himself. If he does he will be in the market for about eight good mules, a Flying Dutchman gang and a house-keeper.

Frank Howden met with a very painful accident Thursday of last week in which he sustained severe burns over his face and hands and can consider himself lucky that he escaped with his life. Ashes from his threshing engine set fire to the straw around the machine and instantly a big blaze was on threatening the destruction of the rig. Frank jumped onto the engine and went to pull out the separator which he succeeded in doing but in doing so burned himself very severely. We sincerely hope that he will soon recover and that his injuries will not be of a permanent character.

COOPERSTOWN SOUVENIR POST CARDS AT THE GALLERY.

W. H. Martin writes from Silverton, Oregon, as follows: Thinking perhaps some of the friends would like to hear from me you would give me a small space in your paper. I arrived in Silverton Monday noon as I could not rent a house in town I bought one with an acre of ground and moved into it Tuesday. I am well pleased with the country. I think I will find plenty of work here so don't spend any time looking for me back to Cooperstown.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters: to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, and guaranteed to give satisfaction, at H. H. Bateman's drug store.

The opening gun of the campaign of 1904 was discharged last Monday night at the opera house, and the gunner who let it fly was Hon. John S. Frame of Fargo. The gentleman confined himself to national politics, reviewing the work of the two great parties and showing in a very clean manner that the country had prospered more and was in better shape under a republican government than under a democratic government. His speech was free from those sarcastic remarks usually heard by political spell binders, but was a clean cut presentation of facts from a republican standpoint. Prior to Mr. Frame's address Attorney A. M. Baldwin gave a good talk on national affairs and the republican glee club livened up the occasion with a few songs appropriate to the occasion.

Editor Trubshaw is getting wise. He has finally discovered that the public has had enough Trubshaw. But the bosses have not yet recognized his demand for a primary election law. Ruth, the twelve year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Sinclair, of Portal, died last Friday evening about 6 o'clock from an attack of diphtheria after an illness lasting only five days. Ruth had been attending school at Cooperstown and at the time she was taken sick was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Church where her mother was visiting. The disease is one that is dreaded by all and in the brief space of only five days claimed its victim and Ruth had passed away to her heavenly home. She was an exceptionally winsome little girl and was the pride and joy of her heart broken parents, whose severe loss calls forth the heartfelt sympathy of many friends at Cooperstown and in Griggs county. On account of the malignant nature of the disease it was necessary to have a strictly private funeral which occurred last Saturday, the remains being laid away in the Cooperstown cemetery. Mr. Sinclair, who had returned to St. Paul, where he had another little girl sick in the hospital, was sent for when Ruth was considered dangerously sick but did not arrive until she had passed away. The loss of their daughter is indeed a hard one to Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair and sympathy does not go far towards healing hearts that are broken by sorrow so great as theirs, yet it is extended to them in fullest measure by a wide circle of friends. May they find comfort in the thought that their little daughter has gone to her heavenly home where there shall be no sorrow and no parting.
