Ye editor was summoned to Dickinson last Wednesday to appear as a witness in the Climle case. We offered a reasonable excuse why we were needed at home to attend to affairs and was excused, for which we are grateful to say the least. Dickinson is quite a place in some respects. It looks prosperous, contains many nice homes and last but not least, it is full of saloons running contrary to the peace and dignity of the state, right under the nose of the court. The county officials are not making a record prosecuting these law breakers and public sentiment is in favor of the saloons and there you are.

Senator Cox came up from Fargo yesterday to talk life insurance to the gang and he is pretty smooth at the business too.

The fire bell got a lively move on itself last Saturday evening about 6:30 and there was a great scramble from the supper table to the fire hall to get busy. The alarm was turned in from N. J. Olsen's elevator and the department got out in a hurry but were not needed the fire being put out with pails of water. Fire had started from the exhaust pipe of the gasoline engine and got in between the iron sheeting and the wall. The damage was light and N. J. has his elevator and is doing business at the old stand.

There was quite a warm time at Binford Tuesday. A blind pigger was chased out of town and a lot of whiskey gathered in. Another party by the name of J. L. Jackson then came along and wanted that whiskey back but it was refused him. He then threatened to burn up Editor Curry's office and Mr. Curry had him placed under arrest and he and Constable Quam and some others started for Cooperstown on the train and when Jessie was reached Jackson jumped off and started for the country with a few in pursuit. A few shots were fired and Jackson halted and was gathered in again and brought to town by team the train having departed in the meantime. He had a preliminary hearing Tuesday evening and was bound over to the district court ball being fixed at $500 which was not given at that time. Editor Curry swore out the complaint.

Expectations as to the wheat crop ran high during early fall—then were dashed to the ground as it were—now we find that returns are quite good after all, and feel thankful for the result. The future is always uncertain so far as financial returns are concerned. It is well to have something put away to meet emergencies. Put your reserve in the bank where it is well guarded and will cause you less anxiety than if you had it sewed in a mattress. THE STATE BANK will take care of your savings, large or small, and will pay you interest on time deposits. It is also well provided with funds for loans on approved paper.

The Jamestown high school basketball team arrived on Saturday's train to play the high school team of Cooperstown. The game was called at 2:30 by Referee W. D. Hartman and a very pretty game resulted. The Cooperstown girls proved too much for the girls who live on the banks of the classic James and defeated them easily by a score of 29 to 7. A return game will be played at Jamestown in the near future at which time the Jamestown girls will try and reverse matters. Our home girls put up a good game and will keep these other teams guessing.

Smoke was noticed coming out of the upstairs windows of Knud Thompson's house last Thursday morning about 9 a. m. and a hurry up call was sent in to the fire department who got into the game good and lively. Their services were not needed, however, as the bucket brigade succeeded in extinguishing the fire. A partition up stairs had caught fire from a stove pipe running up into a closet, a dresser stood by the pipe and that had caught fire and was ruined. Prompt work no doubt saved the house and contents and the COURIER congratulates the Thompson family over their lucky escape. Very little damage was done.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters: to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, and guaranteed to give satisfaction, at H. H. Bateman's drug store.

Wedding Bells.

A quiet home wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rickford Monday, Oct. 24, 1904, when Miss Anna Nesheim was united in marriage to Richard Rickford, the Rev. O. D. Purinton officiating, the ceremony taking place at high noon. The groom is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Rickford and is a popular young man, while the bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nesheim. Both have a wide circle of friends. Miss Rosette Adrian acted as bridesmaid and Ernest Rickford, brother of the groom, as best man. Only near relatives were present. The happy couple received some very useful presents as follows: Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rickford, a steel range; Mr. and Mrs. Nesheim a bed room set; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Adrian rocker; Mr. and Mrs. J. Gunning, lamp; Mr. and Mrs. J. Masner, $5; Mr. and Mrs. D. B. McDonald, extension table; the Adrian young folks, dinner set, dishes and other things too numerous to mention. An elegant dinner was served. The young couple left for their farm followed by the best wishes of their many friends.
