COOPERSTOWN, GRIGGS CO., N. D., THURSDAY NOVEMBER 24, 1904.

$1.50 PER ANNUM

THE ONE PRICE DEPARTMENT STORE.

THE GROWTH OF THIS BUSINESS IS DUE TO OUR BIG VALUES. . . .

We do not attempt or expect to win or hold patronage on any other basis than the most goods, of the right quality for the least money. This is the one overshadowing element in the success of this business. We quote low prices and offer exceptional values in season.

Our October Sale was a great success and we have decided to continue this sale during November as long as supply lasts, with the exception of Arbuckles Coffee which will be 7 pounds for $1.00

Clothing Department.

Mens' Clothing is only one department here, therefore we look to this line for only a portion of our profits. This being so we can sell at close prices, and we do.

Also we look carefully to the quality of every suit and overcoat before giving it a place in our stock.

Fur Goods.

We handle the Lampher Skinner & Co's. Furs, Ladies and Mens' Fur Coats. Boas and Muffs. Call and get our prices before buying elsewhere.

Ladies Skirts.

We will give 20 per cent. discount on all Ladies Tailor Made Skirts for the next 30 days.

Coats & Jackets.

There are four important factors in the values of a jacket—style, fit, material, tailoring. If any of these are lacking it spoils the garment for people who are particular about their appearance. Ours is the celebrated Palmer garment which in itself is a guarantee of excellence.

ALBERT LARSON.

Pioneer Dray Line.

ANDERSON & LOUDEN, Props.

All kinds of draying, safe moving, etc., done promptly and carefully. Bus Line in connection. Bus orders at the Palace Hotel. Other business call up Phones 71 & 207.

COOPERSTOWN, : NORTH DAKOTA.

THE COURIER.

Only one democrat has been elected to the lower house of the North Dakota legislature and the official count may wipe out his majority. He will be very lonesome the coming session. He is in line to get the solid support of his party for United States senator—if he will vote for himself.

Senator McCumber's legislative friends in his own county of Richland were victorious at the polls, all being elected, giving the senator a nice little boost to start with. From present indications Mr. McCumber will be re-elected by a big majority, although some opposition has been developed. He has made North Dakota an excellent representative in the upper house of the national legislature and should be re-elected.

Another indication that the country is recovering from the slump that began last fall, says a recent issue of the Minneapolis Journal, is to be found in the renewed activity of the landseekers and in the brisk business now being done in farm lands. Coincident with the general business depression there was a reaction in what may be called the land business. The numbers of home-seekers fell off and in places there was a considerable recession in values. All who had paid much attention to the subject of land values were certain, however, that the recession would be temporary. There is just so much land in the humid region in the United States and it is fairly occupied today. With the republic's population increasing at the rate of 15,000,000 a decade, it is plain that good land anywhere near market that today sells for less than $100 an acre has a good margin for further increased value.

Never, we believe, in the history of the United States has there been such a difference between the price of cattle on foot and their hide or skins as there is at the present time. Cattle at Minneapolis, South St. Paul, Omaha, Kansas City and Chicago range in price from $1.75 to $3.50; cows average 2½; steers 2 to 3½; bulls 1½; veal calf 2 to 4½.

If the cattle were all hides and tallow the farmers would receive more money according to the price circular issued by the Northwestern Hide & Fur Co., Minneapolis, who quote the following cash prices:

Cow hides, green salt cured, No. 1 9½c, No. 2 8½c; Cow hides green unsalted, No. 1 8½c, No. 2 7½c; Heavy steer hides ½c per lb. more; Bull hides ¼c per lb. less. Veal calf, green salt cured No; 1 12½c, No. 2 11½c. Veal kip, green salt cured No. 1 10½c, No. 9c. Veal kip, green unsalted, No. 1 9½c, No. 2 8c.

It is shown from the above figures that the hides and skins are worth from 3 to 3½ times as much per pound as the cattle on foot. Rendered tallow is worth 4½c per pound, rough 2½c. It would seem exceedingly wise on the part of the farmer and stock man to slaughter his stock at home and eat or sell his beef rather than ship to market; after the freight and commission is paid there is but little left in mon stock.

ing, Nov. 10, 1904.

SHARON MILL & ELE. Co., Sharon, N. D.

Gentleman: Your flour was awarded a Grand Prize by the Jury of Awards. This has been confirmed by the Superior Jury. A Grand Prize is the highest award that can be given, better than a Gold Medal. You are at liberty to use this fact in your advertising or in any way that would be to your advantage.

Yours Truly,
DAVID BARTLETT.

Obituary.

Entered into rest, Saturday the 19th of November, at 2 o'clock p. m., Mrs. Eliza Davis Carleton, wife of W. H. Carleton, aged 46 years.

To Mrs. Carleton's acquaintances and neighbors the above familiar phrase, "Entered into Rest" means much. To the members of her devoted family and to the one or two most intimate friends who went with her to the dark river which none recross, it means vastly more.

Only they know how hard was the struggle before the soul was freed. Only they know how fully she had earned that rest. For many years a partial invalid, Mrs. Carleton's ailments assumed a more acute form over a year ago, since when she was seldom free from suffering for which there seemed to be no relief.

But, through all those years of weakness and pain, her usefulness never ceased. For the needy she had always help, for the sorrowing she had always sympathy, for the happy ones she had always smiles. Scarcely anyone could leave us who will be more sorely missed. Her church has lost a devoted member, the temperance cause is without one of its most faithful workers. The bereavement of her family cannot be estimated. The story of Mrs. Carleton's patience in her suffering and of her solicitude for her friends all through her illness, and particularly during her last days may well serve as an object lesson to us who are left.

Through the week of intense agony which preceded her final release, her thoughts were all for her friends. To each member of her family she gave a parting message, not forgetting even the tiny boy who had been her delight; while for her many friends not bound to her by ties of kinship, she left the farewell which her great weakness forbade her giving in person. For such friends these were her parting words. "Tell them all that I love them; and be sure to tell them too, that there is a reality in the religion of Jesus." Death had no terrors for her. She only prayed for his speedy coming. Bits of the Psalms and other portions of the scriptures were often on her lips during those trying hours.

To those who have some knowledge of the devotion to Mrs. Carleton of husband, brothers, sisters, mother and friends, it would seem that her path of pain must surely have been made less intolerable by this devotion. It can never cease to be a matter for thanksgiving to them, that it was possible for them to render her such service; service which she had well earned by years of helpfulness to them all.

It is not only our little town which for twenty-two years has called Mrs. Carleton friend, that is bereft; the whole county will feel itself the poorer that she will no more go in and out among us.

The writer is certain that she is speaking for the entire community when she extends to the sorrowing relatives, and most of all to her husband whose devotion none can measure, the most heartfelt sympathy.

E. H. K.

The funeral was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Blackwell Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, a large concourse of friends gathering to pay last respects to their departed friend and neighbor. Rev. S. Bachelor, pastor of the Baptist church conducted the services. Mr. C. T. Whidden sang three solos, one of them "Some Time You'll Understand," being a favorite of the deceased. The casket was literally covered with beautiful roses, lilies, carnations and smilax. The ladies of the W. C. T. U. of which order Mrs. Carleton had been a valued member, attended the funeral in a body, and each lady silently dropped a white carnation upon the bier of their departed sister. The remains were interred in the Cooperstown cemetery.

A Startling Test.

To save a life, Dr. T. G. Merritt, of No. Mehoopany, Pa., made a startling test resulting in a wonderful cure. He writes, a patient was attacked with violent hemorrhages caused by ulceration of the stomach. I had often found Electric Bitters excellent for acute stomach and liver troubles so I prescribed them. The patient gained from the first, and has not had an attack in 14 months." Electric Bitters are positively guaranteed for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation and Kidney troubles. Try them. Only 50c at H. H. Bateman's.
