BOTH BUSSIA AND JAPAN AP-PARENTLY DETERMINED TO PRESS THE WAR.

Gen. Stoessel Surrenders Port Arthur nd Arranges Terms of Capitalstion with Gen. Nogi-Japs Take Possession of Fallen City.

London, Jan. 6.-A dispatch to the Daily Express from St. Petersburg says that at a meeting of the council yesterday, presided over by the czar, it was decided to continue the war with renewed energy. Gen. Kuropatkin is to be reinforced by 200,000 men before the end of February. The transport capacities of the transsiberian railway are to be increased by the use of a new type of car. It also was decided to recall Admiral Rojestvensky immediately. The czar and the council were unanimous in declaring, it is said, that the closing of the war now would be incompatible with Russia's dignity. Determination was expressed to continue hostilities until Russian arms had achieved a decisive victory.

Japan's Attitude. Weshington, Jan 7.—Japan has made, no overtures for peace to Russia, directly or indirectly, through the United States or any other power and contemplates no such action, and now that Port Arthur has fallen proposes to press the war in the north all the more vigor-ously by reenforcing the Japanese armies at Liaoyang with the greater ston Coal Co., who own the coal part of the troops which have been besieging Port Arthur. This in brief represents the views of Mr. Kogoro Takahira minister, "is but a step in the war which Japan is waging for a principle. Certainly it is an important step, but nothing could be further from the truth than the assumption that because Japan has captured a strong bed, the fall of which has long been expected, the Japanese government will now make overtures for peace. Japan is too busy fighting. We are as much in earnest to-day as Northern China ice is often savet we were at the outet of the war. Judge Refuses to Release Nan Patterson on Bail, Pending An other Trial.

New York, Jan. 7 .- Justice Breenbaum, of the New York state supreme court, Friday denied the application of Nan Patterson for bail pending a new trial on the charge of the muster of 'Caesar" Young. In denying the application Justice Greenbaum said that as it appears that the district attorney intends to proceed with a second trial of the prisoner he did not feel that he would be justified in ordering her re-lease on ball. Miss Patterson became hysterical when Abraham Levy, her counsel, went to the Tombs and informed her of Justice Greenbaum's decision. She wept and wated her arms frantically, refusing to be comforted. Later when her father visited her an affecting scene took place. The young woman tried to restrain her emotion, but finally threw her arms about her father's neck and burst into tears again. Sentence Passed.
Rising Sun, Ind., Jan. 7.—Judge Corne overruled a motion for a new trial for James Gillespie, convicted of the murde of his twin sister, Elizabeth. Gillespie then prayed for an appeal to the supreme court, which was granted, and 60 days in 1893. were given in which to file his bill of were given in which to file his bill of exceptions. Judge Cornet then sentenced Gillespie to imprisonment in the penitentiary for life. The cases of Myron Barbour, Belle Seward and Carrie Barbour were continued until the March term of the Ohio county court.

The Crime. Miss Elizabeth Gillespie was shot on the night of December 8, 1903, while in the parlor of her home preparing to entertain the Woman's Literary club of Rising Sun. The assassin fired through a front window with a double-barreled shotgun, inflicting wounds on the head of the woman which resulted in her death several hours later. The only person in the house at the time was the aged mother of the victim. Several witnesses testified that James and Elizabeth had many quarrels previous to the murder and that James left home to board with another sister after one of these quarrels. Experts claimed that the wounds were inflicted with a 16gauge shotgun and the prosecution brought forward witnesses who testified that James Gillespie was the owner of the only 16-gauge shotgun in Rising Sun.

Theodore Thomas was born a Essen, Germany, October 11, 1835, and made his debut as a violinist in Germany at the age of ten years: The seme year, 1845, he came to America and gamen a reputation as a solo viclinist at great New York concerts and in a tour of the south. He inaugurated orchestral concerts in 1864 and three years later, in 1867, he founded the Thomas orchestra maintaining the organization until 1838.

Previously, in 1862, he had been elected leader of the Brooklyn Philharmonic society, and, in 1877, of the New York Philharmonic society, and he held these posts, too, until 1891 almost continuously. From 1885 to 1887 he was tonand from 1873 to 1898 conducted the biennial Cincinnati musical festivals. He

Merchants Generally Find Business Conditions to Be Very

New York, Jan. 7.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "Aside from some hesitation at the south owing to the recent fall in the price of cotton, business conditions are favorable and optimistic sentiments are evidenced by extensive preparations for active trade. As annual reports appear it is found that the closing months of 1904 made a much better exhibit than the first half, which starts the new year with smaller stocks of goods in the hands of dealers, assuring liberal contracts in the near future for replenishing supplies.

"Failures for the week numbered 290 in the United States, against 400 last year, and 25 in Canada, compared with 37 a year ago."

Bradstreet's says: "Seasonable quiet rules distribution at present. Consideration of past favorable results and preparations for what is confidently hoped to be a prosperous year's trade engrosses wholesalers and jobbers. Buttressing the expectations of a satisfactory spring trade to come are the fair volume of orders already booked in leading lines of dry goods, shoes, clothing and kindred articles and the generally small stocks reported carried in final distributors' hands. Western jobbers' stocks are reported 10 to 30 per cent. smaller than a year ago at this date and this fact, caupled with the knowledge that the coming three and six months' business will compare with a reduced volume a year ago, leads to the belief that comparisons from now on will
