Bryan—NHI

Manager Marquardt has received the painful intelligence that the great and only Bryan will not visit Cooperstown this season. This is sad news to the faithful who wanted an opportunity to worship at the Shrine of the great democratic leader. Mr. Bryan stated at Valley City that he was needed at home in April to put in his corn crop so will be forced to pass us up. We give a little sketch of this great leader leaning on his hoe in his corn field at Lincoln, Neb. He is gazing into the future and wondering what the possibilities are for him in 1908, while we at Cooperstown sincerely regret that we shall be unable to hear one of the greatest orators of these times.

PORTLAND—NIT!

Lieut.-Gov. Bartlett has wisely declined to take charge of the North Dakota exhibit at Portland, Oregon, in the event of the legislature passing the bill for an appropriation for that purpose and the COURIER is of the opinion that he is wise in so doing. A public servant is not appreciated no matter how hard or faithfully and well he discharges his obligations for them. Mr. Bartlett went to Buffalo and very creditably indeed represented the state. He was asked to go to St. Louis and closing up his home and business went and placed North Dakota second of all the states in awards. He spent something like $5,000 more than it was thought he should, nevertheless he did it for the benefit of the people and North Dakota comes out of the deal the best represented state at the fair for the amount invested. There are a few knockers who have been continually howling about this exhibit without just cause and we don't blame Mr. Bartlett for not wanting to again serve an ungrateful people in a like capacity. We are glad to know that he is coming home where he is appreciated by his fellow citizens who believe that he has well and faithfully discharged his trust.
