Just Discrimination in Bailway Rates All railroad men qualified to speak on the subject in a responsible way are likely to agree with President Samuel Spencer, of the Southern railway, when he says: "There is no division of opinion as to the desirability of stopping all secret or unjustly discriminatory devices and practices of whatsoever character."

Mr. Spencer, in speaking of "unjustly discriminatory" rates and devices makes a distinction which is at once apparent to common sense. There may be discrimination in freight rates which is just, reasonable and imperatively required by the complex commercial and geographical conditions with which expert rate makers have to deal. To abolish such open and honest discrimination might paralyze the industries of cities, states and whole sections of our national territory.

This distinction between just and unjust discrimination is clearly recognized in the conclusions of the International Railway Congress, published yester-

"Tariffs should be based on commercial principles, taking into account the special conditions which bear upon the commercial value of the services rendered. With the reservation that rates shall be charged without arbitrary discrimination to all shippers alike under like conditions, the making of rates should as far as possible have all the elasticity necessary to permit the development of the traffic and to produce the greatest results to the public and to the railroads themselves."

The present proposal is, as Mr. Walker D. Hines, of Louisville, showed in his remarkable testimony the other day before the senate committee at Washington, to crystallize flexible and justly discriminatory rates into fixed government rates which cannot be changed except by the intervention of some government tribunal, and by this very process to increase "the temptation to to be open, and you wear black eyes depart from the published rate and the and lose your teeth, and you lawful rate in order to meet some overpowering and urgent commercial condition."-New York Sun.

DAD WAS A SIGHT WHEN WE FOUND HIM IN JAIL

Sunday school teacher, and he felt as went down in the elevator and took a though he was being misunderstood in hack to the hotel, and dad's lips France. We told him the only way to worked as though in pain. get out of jail was to say he was a crowned head from Oshkosh, traveling incog, and when he began to stand on his dignity and demand that a messenger be sent for the president of France, to apologize for the treatment he had received, the jailer and police begged his pardon and we dressed him up in his new clothes and got him out, and we went to the Eiffel tower to get some fresh air.

I suppose you have seen pictures of the Eiffel tower, on the advertisements of breakfast food in your grocery, but you can form no idea of the height and magnificence of the tower by studying advertisements. You may think that the pictures you see of world events on your cans of baked beans and maple syrup and soap, give you the benefit of foreign travel, but it does not. You have got to see the real thing or you are not fit to even talk about what you think you have seen. You remember that Ferris wheel at the Chicago world's fair, and how we thought it was the greatest thing ever made of steel, so high that it made us dizzy to look to the top of it, and when we went up on the wheel we thought we could see the world, from Alaska to South Africa, and we marveled at the work of man and prayed that we be permitted to get down off that wheel alive, and not be spilled down through the rarified Chicago atmosphere and flattened on the pavement so thin we would have to be scraped up off the pavement with a case knife, like a buckwheat cake that sticks to the griddle.

You remember, old man, how you cried when our sentence to ride in the Ferris wheel expired, and the jailer of DAD'S BREAST, WITH THE WORD "BISHOP" ON IT. the wheel opened the cell and let us out, and you said no one would ever get you to ride again on anything that same and the result of drinking it is you couldn't jump out of if it balked, or about the same as the result of drink- you got wheels in your head and chunks of things came up to your Ading anything in France-it makes you am's apple and choked you. Well, cross my heart, if that Ferris wheel, that looked so big to us, would make a main spring for the Eiffel tower. That tower is higher than a kite, and when you bottle; but here every kind of drink get near it and try to look up to the top, you think it is a joke, and that puts the drinker in condition to want really no one actually goes up to the to hug. Dad says he never knew he top of it. You see some flies up around had a brain until he learned to drink the top of it, and when the guide tells absinthe, but now he can close his eyes you the flies crawling around there are

I have been a bad man, and never thought I needed the benefits of religious training, but since I got up here, so near Heaven, in an elevator which I will bet $10 will break and kill us all before we get down to Paris, I want you to prepare me for the hereafter quick."

Some of the other fellows laughed at dad, and the Salvation Army people looked as though dad was drunk, but he continued: "You can laugh and be jammed, but I'll never leave this place until I am a pious man, and you Salvation Army people have got to enlist me in your army, for I am scared plum to death. Go ahead and convert me, while we wait." The Salvation Army captain put his hand on dad's head, the girl held out the tambourine for another contribution, and dad felt a sweet peace come over him, and we a sweet peace come over him, and we instruments in Paris, Bigourdan, has experimentally demonstrated the practicability of operating a system of clocks by wireless telegraph signals. The method, he claims, would be both simpler and cheaper than the present system, which requires the use of underground wires. The new plan uses a central clock, operating every second an electric contact which actuates an oscillator. The signals are transmitted to the receiving clocks from an elevated mast. With the aid of a chronograph band, and recording pen the signals can be read within two one-hundredths of a second. The experiments were made over a distance of one mile and a fifth, which might be increased .-Youth's Companion.
