

MISS ELLA OFF, INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

SUFFERED FOR MONTHS.

Pe-ru-na, the Remedy That Cured.

Miss Ella Off, 1127 Linden St., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I suffered with a run-down constitution for several months, and feared that I would have to give up my work. On seeking the advice of a physician, he prescribed a tonic. I found, however, that it did me no good. On seeking the advice of our druggist, he asked me to try Peru-na. In a few weeks I began to feel and act like a different person. My appetite increased, I did not have that worn-out feeling, and I could sleep splendidly. In a couple of months I was entirely recovered. I thank you for what your medicine has done for me."—Ella Off.

Electro-plated lace may yet be the fashion. A French writer says that a complete set of ecclesiastical vestments has been made at Lyons of these plated laces, and suggests that society people adopt them for ball dresses.

CONCERNING CONSCIENCE.

The public conscience consists mostly of traces.

There are more kinds of consciences than you can count.

The man who stirs up the public conscience sometimes gets stirred under himself.

The public conscience differs from the private conscience only in quantity, not in quality.

The conscience of some people closes its eyes to its own debts, but keeps them wide open to the debts of others.

It is funny that a fuss some people make over the money another man's conscience has allowed him to accumulate.

Very few men are too conscientious to permit their hens to lay eggs on Sunday. Most men work their layers overtime.

EVER TREAT YOU SO?

Coffee Acts the Jonah and Will Come Up.

A clergyman who pursues his noble calling in a country parish in Iowa tells of his coffee experience:

"My wife and I used coffee regularly for breakfast, frequently for dinner, and occasionally for supper—all ways the very best quality—package coffee never could find a place on our table.

"In the spring of 1896 my wife was taken with violent vomiting which had great difficulty in stopping.

"It seemed to come from coffee drinking, but we could not decide.

"In the following July, however, she was attacked a second time by the vomiting. I was away from home filling an appointment at the time, and on my return I found her very low; she had literally vomited herself almost to death, and it took some days to quiet the trouble and restore her stomach.

"I had also experienced the same trouble, but not so violently, and had relieved it, each time, by a resort to medicine.

"But my wife's second attack satisfied me that the use of coffee was at the bottom of our trouble, and so we stopped it forthwith and took on Postum Food Coffee. The old symptoms of disease disappeared, and during the nine years that we have been using Postum instead of coffee we have never had a recurrence of the vomiting. We never weary of Postum, to which we know we owe our good health. This is a simple statement of facts." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

Mrs. Charlotte Hoyt Forgot Her Family When Making Her Will

HAS STOOD THE TEST OF THE COURTS

The Woman Had Been a Poor Girl But Became the Wife of Two Millionaires, Both of Whom Treated Her Handsomely When Divorces Were Granted.

Tiffin, O.—Because he was the lover of Mrs. Charlotte Hoyt, the wealthy and abandoned wife of Reuben M. Hoyt, of New York city, a millionaire manufacturer of perfumes, Judge J. F. Bunn, a lawyer of this city, by the verdict of the jury in the Hoyt will case, just decided in the courts here, has come into the possession of an estate valued at $200,000. Except as the affianced husband, Judge Bunn was in no wise related to Mrs. Hoyt, whose death occurred two years ago at her beautiful suburban home, "The Maples," in this city. To give him her fortune, she disinherited her sister, Mrs. Eva E. Hill, and her stepbrothers, Frank and Rufus Guss, and other relatives.

The case was one of the most interesting will contests ever tried in the courts of northern Ohio. Its hearing occupied over three weeks. Engaged in it were over a dozen lawyers, some of other studies, becoming, in fact, a highly cultured woman.

During one of her visits in Europe she met Reuben M. Hoyt, of New York, a wealthy young manufacturer of perfumes. He became infatuated with her beauty and, clandestinely, they were much together. Young Hoyt soon won from Stettinheimer the affections of the wife upon whom he had lavished so much wealth. Scandal followed the result of their love for each other, and it ended in Stettinheimer securing a divorce, he settling upon his divorced wife a rich alimony. In New York, on November 30, 1891, she was married to Hoyt. His wedding gift was the title in fee simple to a large part of his landed estate of millions.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt lived together for eight years, but a bright came upon their happiness, and disgrace to him, when his wife's love for intoxicating liquors and drugs became so strong that it made her a slave to them. He then left her and sued for divorce, alleging infidelity. In the parting he settled on her a mansion home in New York and stocks, bonds and money, her possessions at that time, it is said, being over $200,000.

In the fall of 1901, abandoned by her husband, Mrs. Hoyt came to Tiffin and purchased the Maples, worth $50,000, for her home, in the most aristocratic suburban part of the city. On it she placed many improvements and estab-

WHAT SHE WOULD TAKE.

Something That Would Enable Her to Escape Those Hash-cry Jokes.

"Give me a little cold polar bear," said the waitress who, having brought him a glass of water, had stopped to get his order, relates the Chicago Tribune.

"Polar bear's all out," she replied, with a Mr. away gaze that went past his head without seeing him.

"Not any seed watermelon?" "Yeh. Want some?" "No, not if you've got it. How about that pickled tongue?"

"S'all right. Du want that?" "Not any more. I'm married. Well, I don't see anything here on this bill that's cold enough for a hot day in July, except hot pancakes and coffee. Hurry 'em along, will you? They are bound to be cold by the time I get 'em."

The waitress swept away, still without seeing the customer. He called her back. "Here," said the customer, "that was just a joke. I want a boiled dinner. What'll you take to laugh the next time I get funny?"

"Chloroform," said the waitress, as she started for the kitchen.

Voice from Arkansas. Cleveland, Ark., July 31st. (Special)—Nearly every newspaper tells of some wonderful cure of some form of Kidney Disease by the Great American Remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and this part of Arkansas is not without its share of evidence that no case is too deeply rooted for Dodd's Kidney Pills to cure.

Mr. A. E. Carlie, well known and highly respected here, tells of his cure after nearly a quarter of a century's suffering. Mr. Carlie says: "I would let the public know what I think of Dodd's Kidney Pills. I think they are the best remedy for the kidneys ever made."

I had Kidney Trouble for 23 years and never found anything that did me so much good as Dodd's Kidney Pills. I recommended them to all sufferers."

There is no uncertain sound about Mr. Carlie's statement. He knows that Dodd's Kidney Pills rescued him from a life of suffering. He wants the public to know it. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney ills from Backache to Bright's Disease.

ULCERS FOR THIRTY YEARS. Painful Eruptions from Knees to Feet Seemed Incurable Until He Used Cuticura.

Another of those remarkable cures by Cuticura, after doctors and all else had failed, is testified to by Mr. M. C. Massey, of Greenville, Tex., in the following letter: "For over thirty years I suffered from painful ulcers and an eruption from my knees to feet, and could find neither doctors nor medicine to help me. Until I used Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills, which cured me in six months. They helped me the very first time I used them, and I am glad to write this so that others suffering as I did may be saved from misery."

SISTER MARY'S WISDOM. Gave Brother John the Key to Success in All Lines of Business.

Mary had a little lamb, its fleece was white as snow; it stayed away one summer day where lambs should never go. Then Mary sat her down and tears streamed slowly from her eyes; she never found the lamb, because she did not advertise. And Mary had a brother John, who kept a village store; he sat down and smoked his pipe and watched the open door. And as the people passed along and did not stop to buy, John sat still and smoked his pipe and blinked his sleepy eyes.

And so the brokers seized his stock, but still he lingered near, and Mary came to drop with him a sympathetic tear. "How is it, sister, can you tell why other shopmen here sell all their goods so quickly and thrive from year to year?"

"Remembering none but her own bad luck, the little maid replied: "These other fellows fatten, John, because they advertise."

Several of them were lined up in front of the counter at the hotel, discussing foot racers. After the spritling qualities of world famous racers had been defended with much warmth and everybody engaged in the discussion had reached the point where he insisted upon backing his opinion with a whole income, they submitted the whole question to Lynn Austin, who used to be a famous sprinter in his time, relates the San Francisco Chronicle.

"Well, I'll tell you," said Austin, squaring off for the encounter with a serious look. "The fastest runner I ever saw in my life was a renow at Kearney, Neb. He used to run with the hose company, and he was certainly a prodigy. Did you ever hunt prairie dogs? Well, a prairie dog has so much speed that after you've landed a charge of buckshot in his vitals he is carried along by his own momentum and falls into his hole, for which reason no one ever succeeded in capturing the carcass of the animal after shooting him. This fellow down at Kearney, Neb., was the only fellow that ever succeeded in beating a prairie dog to his hole."

"What ever became of him?" said one of the interested listeners.

"Well, I'll tell you. He was out hunting prairie dogs one day. He got a bead on a prairie dog, sent a charge of buckshot after him and then started for the dog. Just as he was stooping to grab the dog the charge of buckshot caught up with him and the calves of his legs were riddled with shot. It crippled him up pretty badly, and he couldn't run after that."

Tin Tags to Build Church. Norfolk, Va.—J. P. Withrow, a merchant, of Hollis and Ellenboro, N. C., proposes to undertake to build a church at Hollis with tobacco tags. He calls upon every tobacco chewer in America to aid him in this work, and tells them that they can contribute their part to this interdenominational church by saving their tobacco tags, instead of throwing them away, and sending them along with the post office. N. C. Withrow bought and sold $1,000 worth of tobacco tags last year, which fact, he points out, will give a very clear idea of how easy it will be to collect enough tags to build a church, providing he received the cooperation of chewers of tobacco.

KIDNEY TROUBLES

Increasing Among Women, But Sufferers Need Not Despair

THE BEST ADVICE IS FREE

Of all the diseases known, with which the female organism is afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal, and statistics show that this disease is on the increase among women.

Unless early and correct treatment is applied the patient seldom survives when once the disease is fastened upon her. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most efficient treatment for kidney troubles of women, and is the only medicine especially prepared for this purpose.

When a woman is troubled with pain or weight in loins, backache, frequent, painful or scalding urination, swelling of limbs or feet, swelling under the eyes, an uneasy, tired feeling in the region of the kidneys or notices a brick-dust sediment in the urine, she should lose no time in commencing treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it may be the means of saving her life.

For proof, read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Sawyer.

"I cannot express the terrible suffering I had to endure. A derangement of the female organs developed nervous prostration and a serious kidney trouble. The doctor attended me for a year, but I kept getting worse, until I was unable to do anything, and I made up my mind I could not live. I finally decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a last resort, and I am to-day a well woman. I cannot praise it too highly, and I tell every suffering woman about my case." Mrs. Emma Sawyer, Conyers, Ga.

CONCERNING CHURCHES.

Rhode Island has a wheeled chapel used by the Episcopal mission, capable of being moved from place to place upon its own running gear.

Bishop Mallaleu says it will not be so many years before there will be 10,000 deaconesses at work in the bounds of the Methodist Episcopal church.

On the advice of the Mexican board of health, the government has issued an order for the daily disinfection of professionals in all the churches of the capital. Priests neglecting the order are subject to fine and imprisonment.

Dr. Torrey stated recently in London that the best workers he had found in his evangelical meetings in Great Britain were the men and women who had been converted as children in the meetings which were held by Mr. Moody.

The Boston Free Church association, of the Episcopal church, proposes again to hold summer services on Boston common. These services have been successful in former years, and generous gifts have made their continuance possible.
