Flying Fish.
Flying fish are very voracious. In their turn they are preyed upon by barracudas, sharks, dolphins, bluefish and a hundred and one others. Nature has colored the flying fish protectively. The back is a deep blue, merging into the blue of the sea they frequent, so that they are invisible a few feet below the surface, while the underneath is a dazzling white, and to a fish that looks upward must merge into the light falling on the sea. In addition they possess the unique power of flight. Flying fish are about seven inches long, and the spread of wings is about equal to their length. The "wing" is of thin, gauzy substance, having stiffening sinews, like the fiber of a leaf, to strengthen it.

The Lilac.
Like the tulip, the lilac is believed to have come westward from Persia via Turkey in the sixteenth century. Its name is Persian. In the English language the color is called after the tree, but the tree originally received its name from its color since it is clearly traceable to certain Persian and Sanskrit adjectives meaning "blue" or "indigo colored." The "lilac" of Persia was the indigo plant. Probably the first mention of the lilac in English is in Bacon's essay on gardens. He favored the spelling "lelache."

Mixed History.
Around the great striking figures of history the small boy weaves curious answers. "Moses' mother pitched his little cradle within and without with pitch and left him there in the pool of Sileam, but when the daughter of Solomon got the green leaf from the dove she hastened and brought food convenient for him, and the babe grew thrice and grew up in her court."—Agnes Dean Cameron in Century.

How He Proposed.
It is told of Oliver Wendell Holmes that for many futile attempts to propose to the lady of his choice his courage failed. They were walking one pleasant afternoon on Boston Common and, coming to where the path separated, he asked, "Which path shall we take?" "This one," she replied, turning toward it. "For life?" he asked. And she said "Yes."

A Palpable Hit.
Osmond—Well, thank heaven, you've never seen me run after people who have money. Desmond—No, but I've seen people run after you because you didn't have money.

His Temper.
Blobs—Wigwag has a frightfully bad temper. Slobbs—Well, it doesn't seem to make him any more amiable when he loses it.—Philadelphia Record.

A Model Husband.
"Does your husband ever make you a promise and then break it?"
"Oh, yes. But Jack is so good! He is always more than willing to make me a new one."

Sorrow is a school of virtue. It corrects levity and interrupts the confidence of sinning.—Atterbury.

Ozone Cure for Tuberculosis, Colds, Catarrh, Bronchial Affections, Asthma, Hay Fever, Con-jested Lungs, Lethargy, Rheumatism and All Germ Diseases.

Ozone manufactured by electricity, administered direct to the lungs—purifies every part of the body.

Pure Ozone exerts a powerful therapeutic influence upon the respiratory organs. Pure Ozone, as properly applied by Dr. Cavanagh, director of The Fargo Sanitarium, tends to purify and also to increase the blood stream, building up diseased tissues and strengthening the system.

Inefficiency of Drugs

Every physician realizes the inefficiency of the most potent drugs in dealing with many of the most common diseases. The germs float in the blood current, attacking first one organ of the system and then another, until, finally, a weak, vulnerable organ, finds itself unable to resist the attack and succumbs. But now Dr. Cavanagh's new Ozone apparatus properly applying this powerful gas to the patient renews the blood corpuscles, and is considered the most powerful alleviative medicine yet discovered.

Application of Ozone

Ozone is carried into the body and is taken into localized areas from Dr. Cavanagh's Medical Ozone Generator by inhalation, bringing all the tissues of the lungs under its influence, passing through this tissue into the blood stream and destroying all germ diseases by removing the cause. A peculiar discovery was made by Dr. Cavanagh after long experience in which one-half better results are obtained if the patient is reclining and respiration is properly regulated when the gas is administered.

Write Dr. Cavanagh about your case. Write now.

The Fargo Sanitarium is fully and modernly equipped—it is more the quiet home than a hospital—no smell of medicine, pleasant, light, roomy large porches, lawns, trees. Accommodations the best and very reasonable. Electric, magnetic, hot and cold water and hot air baths and manual treatments. Write today about your case and for terms. Do it now.

THE MAD DOG FALLACY.

With Some Suggestive Questions on How to Treat a Bite.

In all my own experience with dogs I have not only never seen a "mad dog," but have never known a dog owner—and by that I mean a man who has had experience in keeping dogs—who has seen one. If, then, rabies is so exceedingly scarce, hydrophobia becomes really an impossibility, and the fear of it should be dismissed without a thought.

A person may get dog bitten; but, in the language of the New York tough, "Forget it." If it is a bad bite it may twitch later on, and you may begin worrying, so it is a good plan to get rid of the twitching or throbbing so often that I think no more of it than a mosquito bite, and this is what I do: If it is on the hand I put it under the faucet and wash thoroughly, with the object of cleaning the wound and preventing inflammation from any dirt or foreign substance. While doing this some one is getting the bicarbonate of soda and some clean rags or lint. With water a cream paste of the soda is made sufficient to plaster the wound well; then, putting some on a rag, it is applied to the wound and bound up. If in the course of an hour or more the application seems to be drying, a little water is poured on the bandage to soak through to the soda or the hand dipped in water.—James Watson in Country Life in America.
