Man's Unreasonableness.

is often as great as woman's. But Thos. S. Austin, Mgr. of the "Republican," of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonableness, when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife, for female trouble. "Instead he says, 'we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick, she could hardly leave her bed, and five (5) physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters, she was perfectly cured, and can now perform all her household duties.'" Guaranteed by H. H. Bateman, druggist, price 50c.

Old Sevres.

Old Sevres porcelain holds its own among those who are wealthy enough to buy it, because, within definite limits, it is perfect. The united skill of the best French chemists, potters, artists and sculptors of the time went to its making; the sordid necessity of earning a profit did not trouble the director of Sevres, for an easy going monarch was always ready to make good the yearly loss.

Technical perfection—no less—was aimed at, and it was attained. Frenchmen of that day grumbled at the waste of public money on the Pompadour's whim, but Louis took no heed. Sevres was to produce the finest porcelain at any cost, for the glory of France and her Bourbon kings.—London Outlook.

Somber Christianity.

The And Licht kirk when Dr. Chalmers visited it was a terribly bare little building. The elders were a grim set. They kept their bonnets on their heads till the minister entered, and they had each a large stick in hand, which they used for "chappin" their noses through all the service. The minister wore no gown or bands. He gave a very long sermon, full of sound divinity, but without the smallest practical application and without a vestige of feeling. At length Dr. Chalmers got out, the dismal worship being ended, and his word was, "If these people ever get to heaven, they will live on—"
