Personal Gossip.

Viscomte Bumont, who made an immense fortune by the manufacture of champagne adopted the daughter of an Italian laborer, and at his death bequeathed her his entire fortune. He left his wife, from whom he had lived apart, but $25,000. His relatives made an ineffectual attempt to break his will.

Jiji Shampo, a Japanese newspaper. declares that Japanese noblemen have unfitted themselves by immorality and luxurious living for the responsibilities of State, and warns them that if they do not turn over a new leaf, they will soon be as low in the scale of humanity as are German princes.

Mrs. Stowe, the wonderous story-teller, who has given greater usefulness to fiction than all its people except Buryan, is again in health and homefulness at Hartford. She is now 72 years old; her husband is 82. At fifteen she was a school teacher like Mrs. Blaine. In essentials she was of the west, where she lived seventeen years and where she began to write. Rev. Dr. Howard Crosby, of New York, did not begin his great life work until more than fifteen years after his graduation from the University of the City of New York. He never attended a theological seminary, but received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Harvard before he had assumed his first tures during the last two months pastorate.

Writing of Sheridan's ride one who saw him says: "He wore some of the regulation uniform, but not much. On his head was a little round cap such as German students wear. In his right hand he held a small riding whip, which judging from the welts on the horses flanks, had been industriously used. He was splashed with mud and had a big daub of it just under one eye, which gave him a sort of been-to-a-wake look."

Some of the provisions of the will of an eccentric Canadian physician named Dunlop are as follows: "To my eldest sister, Joan, my five-acre field, to console her for being married to a man she is obliged to henpeck. To my second sister, Sally, the cottage that stands beyond the said field, with its garden, because, as no one is likely to marry her, it will be large enough to lodge her. To my sister Lydia my silver drinking cup, for reasons known to herself. To my brother-in-law Jack, a punch-bowl, because he will do credit to it. To my brother-in-law Christopher, my best pipe, out of gratitude that he married my sister Maggie, whom no man of taste would have taken. To my friend John Caddell, a silver teapot, that, being afflicted with a slatternly wife, he may therefrom drink tea to his comfort.

How Camphor is Made.

The Druggist: Camphor is made in Japan in this way. After a tree is felled to the earth it is cut into chips, which are laid in a tub or a large iron pot partially filled with water, and placed over a slow fire. Through holes in the bottom of the tub steam slowly rises, and, heating the chips generates oil and camphor. Of course, the tub with the chips has a closely fitting cover. From this cover a bamboo pipe leads to a succession of other tubs with bamboo connections, and the last of these tubs is divided into two compartments, one above the other, the dividing floor being perforated with small holes to allow the water and oil to pass to the lower compartment. The upper compartment is supplied with a straw layer, which catches and holds the camphor in crystal in deposit as it passes to the cooling process. The camphor is then seperated from the straw, packed in wooden tubs and is ready for market. The oil is used by the natives for illuminating and other purposes

My Six Year Old Daughter.

DR. C. D. Wanner:—Dear Sir—I received the complimentary bottle of White Winc of Tar Syrap you so kindly sent me. Our little six year old daughter had a very sore throat, badly ulcerated, and coughed almost incessantly. We gave the medicine according to directions, and the began to improve immediately and soon got well. Please accept thanks. Mrs. Groves and thave recommended it to others. I shall want to get some of it at the beginning of winter, as I consider it a very superior medicine.
