

Personal Features.

An English lady recently refused to have her baby vaccinated with virus from the arm of a grandchild of Mr. Gladstone, as all her family were Conservatives, and she did not wish the taint of Mr. Gladstone's Liberalism introduced into it.

Mrs. Mark Hopkins, who is building a magnificent mansion at Great Barrington, Mass., is warned by the Philadelphia Press that her house eventually will become a college, hospital or other public institution, "the almost invariable fate of great edifices in this country where estates are not entailed."

A daughter of the late General Robert E. Lee is spending the season in Washington. She wears, set as a pendant in California gold, three of the moss agate buttons which once were affixed to the black velvet coat General Washington wore when receiving in state. The coat and its buttons have always been preserved in the Custis and Lee families, to both of which Miss Lee belongs. She also wears a wonderful necklace composed entirely of the finest moonstones.

Mrs. Mary Howitt, the famous wife of a man also famous in literature, still lives, at the age of eighty-five years, in her Tyrolean home. Five years ago her husband died, and three of her five children have now passed beyond. One son is living in Australia, and the youngest child of all, Margaret Anastasia, is the devoted attendant of her mother. She, too, has won literary fame.

Patrolman Richard S. Eldridge of the Thirty-second Precinct, New York, the oldest policeman in that city and probably in the United States, has been placed on the retired list, and granted a pension of $600 per annum. He was born in 1798 and was appointed a member of the city watch in 1822. He claims to have been one of the four watchmen who stood guard at the Battery Wharf when General Lafayette landed there on his second visit to this country.

Splendid Honors.

The public should note the fact that the only proprietary medicine on earth that ever received the supreme award of Gold Medal at the great International World Fair, Industrial Expositions and State Fairs is St. Jacobs Oil. After the most thorough and practical tests in hospitals and elsewhere, it has universally triumphed over all competitors, and been proclaimed by Judges and Jurors, including eminent physicians, to be the best pain-curing remedy in existence.

Mr. Francis N. Bangs, who has been paying his compliments to "the terrors of the press," once said to a reporter of a daily paper, "Thank God, there will be no reporters in Heaven!" You are mistaken, "the embodied terror" gravely responded; "there will be a recording angel." Mr. Bangs was so overcome at the announcement that he was unable to smile at the witticism. In justice to Mr. Bangs the statement should be made that he was not troubled on his own account. He knew he would have a fair report.

Myra Clark Gaines, about the year 1840, though the wife of a general in the army, was a peace advocate and lectured upon the subject in the Western cities. The Washington Star says: "Mrs. Gaines has in recent years been attended almost always by her son-in-law, Mr. Christmas. His tall figure, though somewhat bent, presented a rather odd contrast to her short, slight form. Her pinched old face, overlung with a mass of dingy, reddish hair, showed traces of many years filled with disappointment."

An Offensive Breath

is most distressing, not only to the person afflicted if he have any pride, but to those with whom he comes in contact. It is a delicate matter to speak of, but it has parted not only friends but lovers. Bad breath and Catarrh are inseparable. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases as thousands can testify.

An explosion in a Nova Scotia colliery resulted in the death of Thirteen Miners and the injury of others.

Especially to Women.

"Sweet is revenge especially to women," said the gifted, but naughty Lord Byron. Surely he was in bad humor when he wrote such words. But there are complaints that only women suffer, that are carrying numbers of them down to early graves. There is hope for those who suffer, no matter how sorely, or how severely, in Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." Safe in its action it is a blessing, especially to women and to men, too, for when women suffer the household is askew.

I have been a sufferer two years from catarrh or cold in the head, having distressing pain over my eyes. Gradually the disease worked down upon my lungs, my left ear was almost deaf, my voice was failing; me. I procured one bottle of Ely's Cream Balm and within five days my hearing was restored, the pain ceased over my eyes, and I am now enjoying good health. I recommended it to some of my friends. One of them sent for a bottle. He told me that half of it cured him. My advice is to those suffering with catarrh or cold in the head not to delay but try Ely's Cream Balm, as it is a positive cure.—John H. Vanzant, Sandy Hook, Elliot Co., Ky.

High Priced Butter.

Dairyman often wonder how their more favored competitors get such high prices for their butter the year round. It is by always having a uniform gilt edge article. To put the "gilt edge" on, when the pastures do not do it, they use Wells, Richardson & Co's. Improved Butter Color. Every butter maker can do the same.
