

The Sentence of James D. Fish.
James D. Fish, president of the Marine Bank of New York, having been convicted, was brought up for sentence. He placed a hand on the rail and lifted his eyes to the judge, who said:
James D. Fish, you are charged by the grand jury with many offenses against the laws of the United States. After a fair and impartial trial you were found guilty of the misappropriation of funds of the bank of which you were president. You were also found guilty of making false entries in the books of the bank while in that position. The verdict of the jury was that you were guilty. The evidence clearly showed there could be no doubt as to your guilt. A more shameful or a more lawless abuse of the powers of a president of a national bank can scarcely be imagined. It is proper, therefore, that full punishment should be meted out to you, and in order that others may be deterred from similar offenses it is necessary that the full penalty of the law be pronounced on you. A merciful consideration for your age forbids cumulative sentence. The sentence of the court is that you shall be confined in the prison at Auburn for ten years.
Fish did not change color or alter his expression when he heard the judgment. He showed agitation in no way. He walked from the court room leisurely and was returned to his quarters in the Ludlow street jail, whence he will be taken to Auburn in a few days.

Story of Riel's Right Hand Men.
Gabriel Dumont and Dumais were interviewed in Helena, Montana, and talked freely regarding the rebellion. They say Riel was not the leader, but merely an adviser.
We didn't have time to prepare. Our intentions were not to war against the government; our intentions, as I understood the matter, were just to make the government fulfill its promises. Our supplies were rather short. There is no truth in the report that we received arms and ammunition from St. Paul. Mr. Dumont's loss was about $18,000, and the losses of our people were very great. They are in a very bad fix; about two-thirds of them are almost entirely destitute. I think the government will be lenient to the people. The trouble will have the effect of making it hold to the treaty. I think Riel will be set at liberty. I don't think he will be hung. Big Bear did not take any part in the rebellion. We intend to become American citizens. We will try to bring our families here if we get sufficient aid to do so. We were outnumbered four to one. We did what we could. Our force all told was 475. When the ammunition got short those that had none retreated. We had plenty of ammunition elsewhere, but couldn't get at it. I think Riel escaped from Batoche before he was captured.

Opening of a New College.
An important event in the educational history of the state will be the opening of Macalester college in the fall in its new building, midway between the two cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis. The prospectus, which has just been issued, outlines the policy of the institution and gives other items of interest.
The faculty is composed of the following: Rev. Thomas A. McCurdy, D. D., president, and professor of Biblical instruction and moral science.
Rev. William B. Kirkwood, D. D., professor of mental science and logic.
Rev. Nathaniel S. McFetridge, D. D., professor of Greek language and literature, and higher English and modern languages.
Professor of Latin language and literature, and lower English. (The duties of this chair are distributed between Professors Kirkwood and Pearson.)
Charles Forbes, B. S., M. D., professor of natural science.
Frank B. Pearson, A. B., professor of mathematics.
Rev. Edward D. Neill, A. B., professor of English history and political economy.
Rev. Daniel Rice, D. D., lecturer on the literature and revelations of the Bible.
Full preparatory and collegiate courses are provided.

Another Blow at Polygamy.
A Salt Lake special of Monday the 29th inst. says: The opinion of the supreme court of the territory Saturday evening, in an appeal in the cases of Cannon and Mussey, who are serving terms in the penitentiary for polygamy, crushes the last hope of the plural-wives elders. In the lower court Chief Justice Zane held that all that was necessary to establish unlawful cohabitation under the Edmunds law was proof that the man occupied the same house with two women whom he held out as wives, though no marriage ceremony had ever been performed and there had been no actual cohabitation. Zane refused to admit testimony that Cannon and Mussey had lived with but one of their wives since the passage of the Edmunds law. The supreme court Saturday sustained the chief justice in every particular, and as cases of unlawful cohabitation cannot be carried beyond this court the prisoners have no chance of escaping except to flee. There were half a dozen arrests on indictment today, among them John Nicholson, editor of the News, the Mormon organ. Penrose, the previous editor, was indicted last winter, but eluded the officers, and is now in England.

Spurgeon on British Immorality.
Rev. Mr. Spurgeon has produced a sensation by an article over his signature in the recent issue of the English Monthly Review. In this he narrates in detail the story of the death last year of Justice Williams in a brothel, and other facts brought out in the recent Jeffers case. He makes this example from high official life the basis of a denunciation of English immorality, and says:
Sodom in its most putrid days could scarcely exceed London for vice. To our utter disgust and horror, the names of the greatest in the land are openly mentioned in connection with the filthiest debauchery and most hideous evils that drag in the wake of vice. These things are alleged to be the chosen luxury of certain hereditary legislators and rulers in England. Woe unto thee, England, when thy great ones love the harlot's house. Deep is our shame when we know that our judges are not clean and that social purity is put to the blush by magistrates of so mean degree; yea, that courts of justice lend themselves to covering up and hushing up iniquities. Yet shall not God be grieved by such a nation as this? What is coming over us? What clouds are darkening our sky.

The ravages of disease among the French troops in Tonquin are simply appalling. Three thousand invalid soldiers have been sent home.

Himes, Colonel, Aide-de-Camp, Elk Point; C. D. Little, Colonel, Aide-de-Camp, Bismarck; J. C. Warnock, Colonel, Aide-de-Camp, Jamestown.

By order of the Commander-in-Chief,
GILBERT A. PIERCE, Governor.
THOMAS S. FREE, Adjutant General.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE—DAKOTA.
SIOUX FALLS, June 9, 1885.
GENERAL ORDERS NO. 5.

1. Every company of infantry must have 40 active members. When reduced to 20 members it will be attached to another company, or disbanded by order of the Commander-in-Chief.
2. The several volunteer companies of infantry shall be numbered by the Commandant of the brigade, and a record made of each number in his office and the Adjutant General's office.
3. Commandants of companies will make returns of all non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates belonging to his company and all arms and accoutrements belonging thereto, to the commandant of his regiment or battery, on or before the first day of October in each year, and the commandants of each regiment and battery shall make return to Commandant of the Brigade on or before the first of November annually.

4. The commandant of the brigade shall make return to the Commander-in-Chief on or before the first day of December in each year.

5. Each company mustered and accepted under the militia laws of the territory may adopt such constitution and by-laws as a majority of such company may approve, which shall be binding on all who sign the same. Provided that said constitution and by-laws are not inconsistent with the military laws of the Territory, or the Constitution of the United States or the act organizing the Territory of Dakota. There will be held once in each year a brigade muster and encampment of all the volunteer militia in the Territory, continuing not more than four and not less than two days, and said officers and soldiers shall be drilled in accordance with the requirements of the rules and usages of the United States Army. The Commandant of the Brigade will give 30 days public notice of the time and place.

7. For good cause shown the Commander-in-Chief may accept the resignation of the Brigadier Generals; the Brigadier General may accept the resignation of Colonels and of his staff officers; the Commandants of regiments may accept the resignation of Lieutenant Colonels, Majors, Captains and Lieutenants, and staff officers of the regiments.
8. The uniform of the respective officers shall be the same as the uniforms of the officers of the United States Army.

9. Each company shall muster as often as twice in each year, independent of the general muster.

10. The uniform of the United States Army is hereby adopted for members of companies to be of blue color, if not already obtained.

11. Upton's Standard Infantry Tactics are hereby adopted for the use and instruction of the militia, and all other tactics forbidden.

12. Company commanders will report at once, all changes made in their companies, by resignation or otherwise, since muster.

13. All communications relating to the militia, will be addressed and forwarded to the Adjutant General.

By order of the Commander-in-Chief,
GILBERT A. PIERCE, Governor.
THOMAS S. FREE, Adjutant General.

La Moure county farmers have organized a hail insurance company.

A reunion of soldiers and sailors of the territory is arranged to be held at Aberdeen Sept. 8, 9 and 10.

A. M. Morse, the Big Spring rancher, was the first man in the Black Hills to introduce German carp.

Karl Roock of Traill county is only twenty-three years old, and is six feet seven and one-half inches high and weighs 358 pounds.

As Ed Oney of Clearwater was taking a valuable bay team from watering to the barn, one of the horses, for which he had been offered $200 stepped into a hole and broke its neck.

Edward Whalen, editor of the Madison Sentinel, has begun suit against J. F. Stahl, of the Leader, to recover $3,000 damages for libel.

C. K. King, publisher of the Traill County Times, has unaccountably disappeared.

The man known as "the duke of Argyle," Special Land Agent Jaycox's chief witness in certain cancellation cases, was at Aberdeen, bound over to the district court in $300 on the charge of manslaughter.

St. John's day was observed by the Masonic fraternity of Huron and visiting members from various parts of the county. Dr. J. H. Moore of Lake Byron delivered an address.

Settlers on the Crow creek reservation are a good deal discouraged. It was believed that President Cleveland and his advisers would allow the settlers to remain, but again their slowly rising hopes are blasted. Many have left, discouraged, penniless and homeless, and the rest are at the mercy of the government, and many will be objects of charity.

J. M. Tuohy, night editor of the Fargo Argus, has been appointed clerk of the court for Pembina county.

An indictment for libel has been found by the grand jury of Kingsbury county against J. C. Stowe, formerly editor of the Howard Farmer, but now managing editor of the Winfred Ledger, on complaint of Rev. J. C. Shellard, a Methodist minister of De Smet. The former last March published an article concerning Rev. Shellard and a young woman living in the latter's family, upon which the charge of libel is based. Rev. Shellard is under indictment in this county for holding up at the point of a pistol an Alexandria doctor at a hotel at Vilas in March last, at the time the article above referred to was published, and compelling him to sign papers and give up what spare change he possessed. The affair was shrouded in mystery, but enough came to light to show a woman was at the bottom of it.

Mayor E. M. Fuller of Bismarck, took the remains of John W. Edwards to Kulpesville, Pa. Edwards was drowned from Sibley island last November, and his body was found in May last on a sandbar opposite Fort Yates. The body being identified as that of an Odd Fellow.

There was a slight touch of frost in many places on the night of the 21st. John A. Wilson, one of the wealthiest pioneers of Moorly county, was found dead in his bed.

Ore has been discovered in the Pochantas mine that runs $200,000 to the ton.

Three inches of rain fell at Huron the first fifteen days of June.

Two physicians of Aberdeen recently charged Dr. Bergoff of Westport with malpractice, in consequence of which said doctor brings a $10,000 libel suit against the complaining doctors.

Henry Spencer, a young man about twenty years of age, living in Hand county, committed suicide by shooting himself with a shotgun.

The next meeting of the territorial board of agriculture takes place at Huron July 8.

In one of the newest counties of the extreme north the assessor states that he found fully 200 vacant shacks, perhaps a fourth of all the claims taken. Young men, without families in most cases, had invested $15 or $20 in a shack, plowed the few acres required, and perhaps occasionally spent a night on the claim during the six months, and proved up and gone, holding the land for speculation.

Minnesota State Medical Society.

The Seventeenth Annual Meeting of the Minnesota State Medical Society at St. Paul was largely attended. The President Dr. J. B. McGaughey of Winona presided and delivered an annual address. Dr. Day of St. Paul made a welcoming address. Receipts, $838.36; disbursements, $407.36; balance, $431. On the report of the committee on membership some twenty or thirty physicians were elected.

During the sessions interesting and valuable papers were read. Dr. T. J. Hutton of Fergus Falls read on paper upon "Diphtheria, as I See and Treat It."
Dr. D. E. Brooks, Minneka, chairman of the committee on practical medicine, read papers from various physicians detailing cases which came under their practice and observation.

Dr. Lizzie R. Wass of Minneapolis presented the report on obstetrics.

Dr. Talbot Jones of St. Paul, read a paper on "Cholera; its nature, development, and especially the liability of its occurrence in St. Paul."

Dr. Conley read a paper giving the inquiries made of each member of the society, by circular, in relation to the subject of diphtheria.

The report of the committee on nervous diseases was then presented in the form of several papers upon different topics. The first of the papers was by Dr. Denslow, and was upon "Irritation of the Male Urethra as a Source of Certain Neuroses."

Dr. Riggs, chairman of the committee, presented the third paper, his subject being "Brain Exhaustion." He discussed ably various views of the pathology of brain exhaustion.

Dr. Ramsey of St. Cloud read a paper detailing a case of laparotomy for gun shot wound, and taking the view that such operations will be more common in the future.

Other papers were read, and discussions were had upon various topics.

The chairmanship of the various departments were filled as follows, on report of the nominating committee:
Practical medicine, A. E. Senkler, St. Paul; surgery, Franklin Staples, Winona; obstetrics, William Davis, St. Paul; epidemics, hygiene and climatology, Charles Berry, New Ulm; diseases of children, W. J. Masey, Rochester; diseases of women, George T. French, Minneapolis; orthopedic surgery, J. W. Dunn, Minneapolis; materia medica, A. F. Ritchie, Duluth; ophthalmology and otology, C. Williams, St. Paul; medical education, C. H. Hewitt, Red Wing; pathology, Charles H. Hunter, Minneapolis.

The following named gentlemen recommended by the nominating committee, were appointed to represent this society before the legislature at its next session:
Craig, Jamesville; Senkler, Hand, St. Paul; Hunter, Brown, Minneapolis; Berry, New Ulm; McCoub, Duluth.

Officers for the ensuing year were chosen as follows:
President—E. J. Davis, Mankato.

Vice Presidents—First, H. H. Kimball, Minneapolis; second, T. Wakelind, Hutchinson; third, W. D. Flinn, Redwood Falls.

Treasurer—S. B. Sheardown, Winona.

Recording Secretary—C. B. Witherle, St. Paul.

Corresponding Secretary—W. L. Beebe, St. Cloud.

Censors for Three Years—W. W. Mayo, Rochester; A. H. Ludley, Minneapolis.

The social amenities consisted of a banquet at the Metropolitan Hotel, at which many speeches, mostly of a humorous character, were made, and receptions at the residences of St. Paul physicians.

The seventeenth meeting of the Society, on the whole, was one of the pleasantest and most profitable of the series.

Two military convicts, in charge of Lieut. Martel, on the way to Fort Snelling, jumped from the Northern Pacific train going south, two and a half miles south of East St. Cloud. They were handcuffed and chained together, went into the water cold and jumped from the window while the train was going thirty miles an hour. The prisoners were John Feeney and Ed Haxton, en route to Stillwater to serve three years each for horse stealing. They were convicted by a recent court martial at Fort Buford, Dak.

A man named Evans died on the cars near Worthington. He had no friends on the train, but letters indicated that his name was Evans, lives near Lake Crystal, where he had bought his ticket. The dead man had $150 in his wallet, and was probably coming home from the plains to die.

Ansen R. Hayden, a well known citizen, died a few days ago. The cause of his death was an ingrowing toe nail. Three weeks ago his big toe was amputated. As he grew steadily worse, his right leg was taken off above the knee by Dr. Ames of Minneapolis, as a last effort to save his life. He was about fifty years old, and leaves a wife and several children. He served three years in the old Minnesota First, and was orderly sergeant of Company I.

A stranger at Faribault was picked up for cashing a forged check for $50 on a well known business man of that place. He was coolly reading on the hotel piazza when arrested and made no attempt to escape.

Amandus Bittner, on trial at St. Cloud, charged with the murder of his half brother, Ernest Vater, in March last, has been acquitted.

George Green, an employe of the Omaha company, fell dead in the streets of Minneapolis.

Rev. C. H. Plummer, Red Wing, who has officiated in a Christ church, Red Wing, for a month past, has been tendered a call to the rectorship of the church, and has accepted.

The house of Anton E. Anderson, in Danielson, was struck by lightning. The lightning rod was torn to pieces, and quite a hole made in the ground. No one was hurt. A few seconds after the house was struck the barn, about twenty rods away, was struck and set afire.

The State Normal Board met in St. Paul on the 24th inst. Upon report of the committee on teachers, teachers were appointed for the ensuing year. There are but few changes.

Judge Nelson has received a telegram from Judge Bremer, saying that the latter would not be in St. Paul to hold court until September next. Judge Nelson states that he has decided not to call a jury until the first Monday in September.

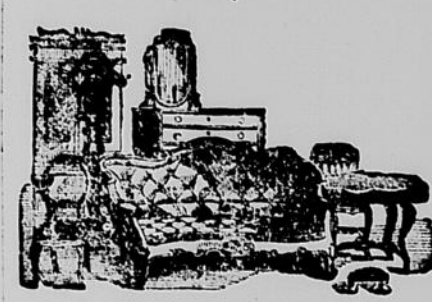

G. L. Spaulding of Monticello is in Durand at the Hennepin county jail under sentence for murder in the first degree—a stay of execution has been secured.

Gov. Hubbard declines to release Col. Bond from arrest.

The Second regiment Minnesota national guard, Col. Joseph Boblsten, went into camp at Faribault.

Mrs. J. C. Pierce, wife of Hon. J. C. Pierce, died at Red Wing.
