H. M. COWEN, Agent. C. S. FEE, Gen. Pass. Agt.

England has captured the Burmese navy (one vessel) and the key to Mandalay.

At the Chicago billiard tournament Slosson defeated Vignaux, and Vignaux defeated Shaeffer.

The Servians are having lots of fun with the Bulgarians. At Widdon and Tien the latter were slaughtered like sheep. A decisive battle will be fought at Sofia, unless other powers interfere.

Riel Really Reeled to the Realm's Celestial.

The last sacrament was taken by the condemned within the guard house proper, and near the opening which led to the scaffold. He responded to the Latin prayers with a full, clear voice while on his bended knees.

During the night Pere Andre urged upon Riel not to attempt an address upon the scaffold, and suggested that a reprieve might still be on its way, but this idea Riel strenuously repelled.

Riel's time has been devoted assiduously to prayer. Soon after his capture by the Canadian troops he professed to throw off his allegiance to the Roman Catholic church, and took the cue of a prophet, claiming to see visions and foretelling events.

In appearance, his beard was dark, neatly trimmed, and his hair was brushed back from his high forehead, with a tendency to curl, in contrast to the straight hair of his Indian progenitors.

The Bulgarian War.

King Milan, of Servia, with an army of 100,000 men, has declared war upon Prince Alexander, of Bulgaria, who has an army of about 50,000.

officers and men of his army, says: "King Milan has declared war against us, and has offered the Servian army to invade Bulgaria. Our Servian brethren, instead of assisting us, wish to destroy our country. Show your courage now, and defend your mothers, wives, sisters, and homes. Pursue and annihilate and the cowardly, treacherous enemy. Let "Forward!" be your battle cry, brethren, and may God aid us and grant us victory." Great excitement and enthusiasm prevail in Philippopolis.

The Dago Murderers Executed.

In a dingy Italian tenement house in Chicago, May 1st, Gelardi, a soap maker, aged twenty-five, was shaving Filippo Caruso. Gelardi stood behind him, lathered his face, and suddenly placed a rope, with a prepared noose in it, around Caruso's neck, at the same time placing his hand over his mouth to stifle any cries.

Pretty Cute Too.

Fargo Argus: Under "Social Sayings" The Chicago Sun recently published the following which Sam Mairs believes refers to his partner, Colonel Howe: Prairie Chickens in Dakota—"I had chickens to sell last harvest, and I never tched a gun. I used to kill 'em by runnin' into 'em with a light binder. My off horse would see 'em out in the field, when I was harvestin', and ripsnort—the hull team would go bent for 'lection. We would strike the covey and bag every chicken in the flock; and them horses would come back to the grain as if nothing had happened. Mash the chickens up? Lord, no! It tied 'em up in bundles—twenty in a bundle—as slick as anything you ever see. I sold 'em by the bundle, and never pretended to county 'em. Well, I don't care if I do. Put a little peppermint in mine."

This sounds strangely like Jimsonweed's remarks in the Courier August 28th.

Sharon.

Ex-Senator Sharon died Nov. 13th, conscious to the last, and engaged in settling up his own estate. He had little use for doctors, and no use at all for clergymen. Sarah Althea Hill was to have made her debut as Portia in the "Merchant of Venice," that evening, but abandoned her purpose. Sharon was a well educated man, but as poor as a church mouse until about fifteen years ago, when, by favor of Ralston, the suicide, he was let into the famous "Crown Point" deal, and pulled out a millionaire. He leaves $12,000,000 and three children.

Jo. Mackin.

Joseph Mackin, the Chicago "fine worker," who stuffed the ballot box for Rudolph Brand, although defended and abetted by Boss McDonald's money, by decision of the supreme court of Illinois, goes to the penitentiary for five years.
