The discussion of the Pension Appropriation bill and the Educational bill occupied most of the time in the House and Senate last week. Ben. Butterworth, of Cincinnati, arraigned the Democracy very severely, and they were defended by Mr. Wilson with considerable ablity.

The butterine people have been before the Sub-Committee on Agricuture. The antibutterine folks want a bill passed taxing butterine, or "tablefat," as the Germans rightly name it, at 10 cents per pound, and to require it labeled, and to be colored either yellow or wink.
