Public interest has not in the least abated, and the morgue is daily crowded to its utmost capacity with the curious and interested ones. Over thirty witnesses have already been examined, and from the testimony presented it would be difficult to determine what the verdict of the six men. good and true, will be. An adjournment was taken yesterday, but proceedings will be resumed at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon. The reason of the adjournment was that the testimony of important witaud the people are not here. The coronor, by this accident, has been brought into great prominece. He is in receipt daily of numerous lefters begging for his photograph. In an intervied yestrday, the coronor said:

People who are not acquainted with opinion that proceedings in the matter of the inquest, are moving very slowly but we are working as fast as we possibly can, under the circumstances. We began at the very bottom, and are working up, taking into account every detail. and not letting a thing escape, that will serve in gaining a verdict. Ancther Bailrond Acc dent.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Nov. S .- A terrible accident occurred here yesterday just as four trains on the Jeffersonville, Madison & Indianapolis railroad was due, and the platform, but a few feet from the scene of the accident, was crowded with passengers, who saw it with a chill of horror. Five men were putting in position the heavy timber of a frame work to support a large water tank. One of the guy ropes of the derrick was stretched across the track, and low anough to be caught by the smoke stack of an ergine, snapping the rope and letting the derrick and the timbers the facts in the case, have formed the fall upon the heads of the five mer, til Dec. 1st.
