

The peculiar medicinal merit of, and the wonderful cures by, Hood's Sarsaparilla have made it the most popular spring medicine. It cures scrofula, salt rheum, and all humors, biliousness, dyspepsia, headache, kidney and liver complaints, catarrhs, and all affections caused or promoted by low state of the system or impure blood. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla sold by druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

PARDEE MEDICINE CO.:
GENTS:—In reply to yours of late date, asking "the effect produced by the use of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy in any case," will say that it cured me completely of a very severe attack of rheumatism and neuralgia, and I will say still more, for the benefit of any who may be similarly affected, that I haven't a doubt but that it will cure ANY CASE of rheumatism, even of years standing, for I am personally acquainted with many who to-day are well, and whose cases but a short time ago were considered hopeless. The remedy is one of the best I have ever known, and is destined to have a sale second to none as a blood purifier.
Respectfully,

The Successful Remedy for Nasal Catarrh

Must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will, by its own action, reach all the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh during the past few years demonstrates that only one remedy has met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. The more distressing symptoms quickly yield to it, and a multitude of persons who have for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict, testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by it. Ely's Cream Balm is perfectly soothing, excites no dread, dissolves the hardened accumulations, lessens the extreme sensibility of the nerve centers to cold and all external irritants, and is followed by no reaction whatever.

ELY'S CREAM BALM.

is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied to the nostrils it is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. Restores the senses of taste and smell.

Parents and Children.
I thank God for two things—yes, for a thousand; but for two among many: First, that I was born and bred in the country, of parents that gave me a sound constitution and a noble example. I never can pay back what got I from my parents. If I were to raise a monument of gold higher than heaven it would be no expression of the debt of gratitude which I owe to them, for that which they unceasingly gave, by the heritage of their body and the heritage of their souls, to me. And next to that I am thankful that I was brought up in circumstances where I never became acquainted with wickedness.

I know a great deal about it; for if I hear a man say A, I know the whole alphabet of that man's life, by which I can imagine all the rest. If I see a single limb, I have the physiologist's talent by which I know the whole structure. But I never became acquainted with wickedness when I was young by coming in contact with it. I never was sullied in act, nor in thought, nor in feeling, when I was young. I grew up as pure as a woman. And I cannot express to God the thanks which I owe to my mother, and to my father, and to the household of sisters and brothers among whom I lived. And the secondary knowledge of these wicked things, which I have gained in later life in a professional way, I gained under such guards that it was not harmful to me.

To all husbands and wives whom these written words may reach I say, if you have children, bring them up purely, bring them up with sensitive delicacy. Bring them up so that they shall not know the wickedness that is known, unfortunately, by the greater number of men.

And if there are children that are sometimes impatient of parental restraint, let me say to them, you do not know what temptation you are under, and if held back by your mother, if held back by your father, you shall escape the knowledge of the wickedness that is in the world, you will have occasion by and by, to thank God for that, more than for silver or for gold or for houses or for lands.

Keep your children home at night. There is many a sod that lies over the child whose downfall began by vagrancy at night, and there is many a child whose heart-breaking parents would give the world if the sod did lie over them. What a state that is for children to come to, in which the father and mother dread their life unspeakably more than their death! What a horrible state of things that is, where parents feel a sense of relief in the dying of their children! Then, I say, take care of your children at night.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Not Crime.

Archdeacon Kirby, in a recent account of his life-long experiences as a missionary among the Indians in British Columbia, remarked upon the extreme difficulty of making them comprehend the simplest Scriptural teachings, and illustrated it by saying that he gave a series of lessons on each of the commandments separately to a class of young Alaskan braves. He dwelt especially upon the principle involved in the Sixth Commandment, explaining, to them clearly what murder meant and what a dreadful crime it was in the eyes of God and man. To test their comprehension of what he had said, he then asked all those in the class who had committed murder to stand up. Only three arose. He was very much surprised, as he knew that they had all been on the war-path repeatedly, and boasted of their scalps. He went carefully over the explanation once more, and again asked them to arise. The same three came to their feet. "Why, surely," he said, in despair, "this can't be all that have committed murder." After a moment's reflection, "Will all those who have tomahawked their mother-in-law please stand up?" Nineteen arose.—EDITOR'S DRAWER, in Harper's Magazine for May.

The Cost of Fashion.

It takes an enormous amount of money to satisfy a woman of fashion. It has been found that bonnets come as high as $40, sealskin sacques are bought every day for $500 or $600, and coats of Russian sables are worn by ladies whose husbands paid $4000 for them. The tailor made cloth walking suits average $100 in cost and only form one in the series of four dresses needed for a lady's daily changes. Her afternoon home dress is likely to cost $75 or $100, her evening dress, if in the height of fashion, will cost $400 or 500, and she needs a $25 dollar wrapper to wear at her toilet before breakfast, and a wrapper worth $35 to $60 to wear at breakfast. The Broadway shopping establishments now keep on hand silk underclothing at $35 a suit, chemises at $60, skirts at $50 to $60, drawers at $35 to $60, stockings at $12 a pair and corsets. "If Coal oil Johnny were to come to life again and try to throw a fortune away, he could not spend one half so much in dress," said a New York store-keeper the other day, "as it is deemed necessary for a rich woman to spend if she wants to keep up to the standard set by other wealthy women."

A Sorrowful Fact.

A Rhode Island avenue man, who is painfully homely has a boy of whom he is very proud. The other day he was playing with the kid while his wife was sitting by the window sewing.

"Tommy looks more like his papa every day, doesn't he, my dear?" he remarked, proudly to her.

"Well," she replied, hesitatingly, as she looked at the boy, "I am sorry to say that he does."—Washington Critic

To Dislodge the Enemy,

When it takes the form of disease of the kidneys or bladder, is a task well nigh impossible of accomplishment. Renal and vesical maladies are more obstinate than any others. Counteract, therefore, the earliest indications of inactivity of the many organs with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which possesses, among other excellent qualities, those of an efficient diuretic. The degree of stimulation apparent from its use reaches, but never goes beyond the bounds of safety. It invigorates always, never irritates. Bright's disease, diabetes, catarrh of the bladder, are diseases successfully combated in their incipency with this benign medicinal stimulant and tonic. Besides reinforcing and regulating the kidneys and bladder, the Bitters is a specific for fever and ague, constipation and dyspepsia.

A New Era Dawning.

If you will visit the Soda Fountains and better class of barrooms and watch, you will see the old drinkers, in a very large majority, walk up and ask for Moxie. The same of the heavy professionals. You will see thousands of working girls on the streets on a Saturday night heading for home with their bottle of Moxie. It is because it satisfies the nerves better than stimulants, makes them clearheaded and vigorous without harm or reaction, and everybody can undergo an enormous amount of fatigue on a few cents worth per day. Women who use it are neither nervous or languid, and it is as harmless as catnip tea. The world moves and God directs.

Stopping A Panic.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune recalls this incident: At the general suspension in 1837, throughout the country, the Hon. Henry Shaw, then of Lanesboro, a large stockholder in the old Agricultural Bank of Pittsfield, and a man of wealth, fearing that in the general "break up" there would be trouble at the bank, drove down to Pittsfield and took a seat in the office at the bank. As soon as its doors were opened, depositors from all quarters rushed in with bills of the bank, and wanted silver. Mr. Shaw asked the depositors one after another in his quiet way, if they wanted to use the silver for any particular purpose, and was answered "No. But we are afraid the bills will not be good." "Well,"

Mr. Shaw said, "I will take the bills of the Agricultural Bank, and give you my note for all that you have, and for all that you can get." Immediately the offer was heralded through the village, and the towns. No silver was drawn out, and in a few weeks the bank sold its silver in New York for large premium.

Mr. T. J. Murphy, 61 Debuvoice Place, Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I was afflicted with sciatic rheumatism and found St. Jacobs oil very efficacious."

The Difference.

Two women in a Boston horse-car were discussing their household affairs audibly and to the great amusement of the other passengers. After comparing notes as to the productiveness of their several farms, the price of groceries, the advantages of a country life over that of one in the city, and uttering a thanksgiving that they kept no servants, and "going to bed, master, get up, mistress," one of them delivers herself in this wise:

"There's the sister Sally, now. Her and me ain't no more alike'n ef 'twa'n't us. She's jest ez different ez I be t'other way."—Editor's Drawer, in Harper's Magazine for May.
