In Memorium.

COOPERSTOWN, Dakota, June 16th.
 It becomes our painful duty to chronicle the death, since the last meeting of the North Dakota Conference, the name of our beloved brother, Rev. Frank M. Rockwell, who died at Kankakee Ill. April 9th, 1887, at the age of 48 years. In precious memory of his christian life, Godly walk and conversation, and faithful ministry, the following resolutions were adopted by conference:

Resolved. 1. That in the death of Bro. Rockwell, the churches of North Dakota, and the cause of Christ, are deprived of a faithful and true worker, and sympathizing friend.
 Resolved. 2. That we tender to the aged mother, brother, sister, widowed wife, and five fatherless children, our heartfelt sympathy, praying that the God of the fatherless, and the widow, may be their help and stay.
 Resolved. 3. That these resolutions and proceedings be placed upon the records of the conference, a copy forwarded to the family bereft, and offered to the press for publication.

A. B. PEEBLES, Scribe.

Benefits of Plain Living.

A lawyer by profession, but a judge in one of the highest courts in New York for twenty-three years, is noted for methodical habits, legal acumen and perfect integrity. Long past 60, erect and vigorous as a man of 40, he cannot count a day lost by sickness in a quarter of a century. At his post as regularly as the sun rises, after adjournment he writes out the opinions of the court, which already fills several large volumes. No man in the city is more worthy of the universal regard which he long since secured. Having long known Judge Blank, I once asked him the secret of his power.

"Plain living," he replied, "has been my salvation. I was a nervous youth, high strung and excitable. I smoked, drank occasionally and was given to rich food. Shortly after being admitted to the bar I found myself the victim of dyspepsia. I began to study my habits and their influence on mind and body. I experimented with food, drinks and exercise.
 The result was fixing a rule of life which I have since followed inflexibly. After a plain but substantial breakfast, I loiter about for an hour or two and then walk to the court house, or a distance equal to three miles or more. Having previously had the room well ventilated, I stay in the building, occupied, except an hour at noon, with my judicial duties. The other judges take a hearty lunch; I eat nothing.
 At 5 o'clock I am through for the day, and walk up town again. Rain or shine, cold or hot, finds me swinging my arms and plodding along in the same gait. All legal work is dismissed as utterly from my mind as if I never knew Coke and Blackstone. I eat a hearty dinner; take no made dishes, no Worcestershire sauce or irritating condiments, no pudding, pie, ice cream or custards, and drink no wine. I have a sense of comfort but not of repletion, feel no desire for intoxicating liquors, and make it a business to thoroughly digest my food, eaten twice a day, no more.
 I am frequently compelled to attend dinners, banquets and festivals of every kind. But neither entreaty nor ridicule can induce me to change my habits. Even a dish of ice cream cannot tempt me."
 Good Housekeeping.

A Lecture on Economy.

A stupid looking tramp knocked at one of the finest residences in Austin, and was received by the lady of the house.

"What do you want?"
 "Please'm, give me a dime to buy a glass of bread; 'scuse me, I mean a loaf of beer."

"I haven't got any money."
 "Haven't got no money? Then, madam, modest as this cottage is, I would suggest your moving into a cheaper house; you are evidently living beyond your means. Economy is wealth. Economize in the way of clothes and house rent. Cut your expenses, and then perhaps some day you will have a dime to spare—a dime, madam, that may be the means of preventing a hungry and thirsty fellow mortal from committing suicide; or it may be a quarter —a coin of the value of twenty-five cents —that will upholster the dark clouds of the horizon of his despairing soul with a silver plated lining and fill his stomach with buck beer. Good day, fair lady."
