AROUND TOWN.

Wheat 56 cents.

Frank Buckley and two sisters, Misses Lizzie and Mary, brother and sisters of John, the engineer on old 49, were representatives of Jamestown at the Cooperstown celebration.

Mr. Robt. Adler, familiarly known as Bob, favors us with a sample of wet goods that the Courier would recommend for medicine if there was any need for medicine in this climate.

Miss Jennie Fitch, sister of Mrs. Maynard Crane, arrived in Cooperstown on Friday night, a visit to her sister.

Alfred Dickoy, of Jamestown, representing the North Dakota Loan and Trust Company, was in Cooperstown Saturday.

Mr. Joseph Buckheit met his wife in St. Paul Tuesday.

Maynard Crane turned his lumber yard out for the Fourth, regardless.

Prof. Hodge was the main stay in the Callithumplan exhibit, and maintained his Wisconsin reputation as a boss Callithumplan.

Jack Cabry in returning last week from Sanborn with Hammer & Condy's horses, Rover and the McDermott mustang, persisted in sleeping a good part of the drive. He was awakened once but fell asleep again when the team ran away, struck Andrew Benson's wire fence, knocked three posts down, jumped the fence three times and broke all the wires. This probably awakened Mr. Cabry, Rover died the next night. A post mortem established the fact that his lungs contained a gallon of blood. The other horse is badly cut but it is a hard thing to kill a horse with his pedigree stamped in his side, and he will probably recover.

Watch for Lawrence Bros. new ad. which appears next issue.

Russell Purinton, Ward's accommodating clerk, went over to Page on Wednesday morning, on a visit to friends. Paul Adams will cater to the wants of the public during his absence.

Miss Aggie Rukke closed a successful term of school at Lee last Friday. She is now spending a few days with the family of Mr. John Syverson in Cooperstown.

A running race for $100, is on the tapis it is said, between Ike, the Hope horse, and a horse belonging to Dr. Knapp, of Helena. Both are good horses, and the race promises to be interesting. It will take place on the Cooperstown track.

Mr. Simpson, Jr., the energetic young type of the Hope Pioneer, paid the COUENIX a call on Monday.

Fred King takes the persimmons as an amateur in sign painting. His work would make some painty blush.

The Palace hotel and the Union house were filled with guests from cellar to garret on the Fourth.

The Baptist Sunday school are talking up a plan to take place on the Shyenne in the near future.

The Farmers Alliance of Cooperstown met July 24 and elected the following officers for the ensuing six months: G. W. Bathey, President; M. Washburn, Vice-President; John Kennedy, Treasurer; Will H. Carlton, Secretary. The president appointed the following committees: On Finance: James Gimblett, H. Husel, S. Simpkins.

On admission of New Members: S. B. Langford, H. G. Chamberlain, H. Husel.

Adjourned to July 16, at 4 o'clock.

E. C. Ward will furnish the dancers with refreshments at the bower Saturday evening, and has generously offered to waick up the profits to the committee to help them out on the shortage of funds.

C. F. Miller, adjuster of the Farmers Mutual Protective Association of Plankinton, was out in Foster county on Wednesday, adjusting a hall ball loss.

Landlord Pashley fed between three and four hundred persons on the Fourth, and Ward claims he fed more than this number, and counting those that were looked after at other restaurants, booths, etc., one may get some idea of the crowd that was in town on that day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cox, and Mrs. J. H. Van Verbis, J. M. Burrell, wife and sister, N. J. Olson and Dr. Clayton, Sanborn, Misses Lizzie and Mary Buckley and Frank Buckley, of Jamestown, were passengers on the down train Tuesday.

A crowd of obstreperous citizens bubbling over with "cold tea," made night anything else than a pleasant dream Sunday.

The gophers are getting in their work. Ed. Warner had five acres of wheat a few days ago, which gave promise of a fine yield and now the little pests have harvested the crop so that it looks as if it had been cut with a mower.

J. N. Brown has lost one work horse. It is supposed it was strychained for a gopher.

3,500 VISITORS

Tarry in the Terminal Town Independence Day. A Magnificent Procession Over Two Miles Long.

Honest Races, Fine Address and Pleasing Music. A Red Hot Ball Game and a Skillful Gun Shoot.

Followed By a Grand Ball.

At 10:30 a. m. the parties taking part in the parade commenced to gather on the common between the Union house and the depot—four horse teams, traction engines with their train of farm machinery, multitudes of Callithumplan maskers, equestrians, unique single handed representations, gaily comparisoned horses, with the busy marshals Thompson, Stork, Stimpington and Frost darting hither and thither arranging the details of the parade. At 10:30 the train arrived from the south with three full car loads of visitors from Valley City, Sanborn, Dazey, Odell and Hannaford. The crowd had been nicely gauged so that while there was no room to spare, all parties were made comfortable. After a well rendered selection of music by the Valley City band under the leadership of Prof. Aagaard, the procession started for the driving park a half mile distant. The grand stand had been rebuilt and enlarged; the track placed in perfect order, and all that was lacking for the races were horses. Messrs. Knapp, Miller and Adams were the judges. The first race was the free for all running race, half mile and repeat. Ike, a bay gelding of Hope, Nigger, and Pashley came to the scratch. Ike at once took the lead and held it to the end, without being crowded, Pashley second, Nigger a bad third. The second heat was a repetition of this one. Time 1 minute.

The pony race bid fair not to fill until Mr. Hammer, to keep the fun going, paid entrance fee on the bay mare Lizzie, owned by Ben Clinie, besides his own cream. The cream took the first heat in 59 seconds. Lizzie took the next two heats—best time 53 seconds—and the race, the Hammer pony being winded.

The trotting race was a hippodrome between a poor defenceless cripple and Johnson's Old Gold. Old Gold won the first heat, and by a mistake of the driver Fenny took the second heat. The third heat was a beauty, Fanny running the entire distance and then getting left. Old Gold won the heat and race. Time 8 minutes.

It was then announced from the judges stand that the rest of the exercises would be held on the common in the centre of town, and the procession again started. At noon the hotels, restaurants, peanut stands, etc., were filled with a dense struggling and hungry mass of humanity.

Great pains were taken by the townspeople to feed the hungry and after some time all were properly filled and returned to the campus. This place had been turned into a cool shady campground. A grand stand accommodated 500 people, a tented bowery 100x16 feet, tents, booths, etc., arranged in a semi-circle about the ball grounds, afforded shade for about 12,000 people.

The male quartet, Messrs. Whidden, Brown, Stork and King, assisted by Mr. Enger upon the cornet, sang the Star Spangled Banner, after which the orator of the day, Mr. David Bartlett, was introduced by Mr. Adams, and made a cool, matter of fact speech, devoid of bancombe and which was frequently applauded. The quartet then sang Banner of Victory when the speaker's stand was removed and the ball game between the Sanborn and Hope aines was called. The game was close and interesting and won by Hope by a score of 18 to 12. The score in full:

Some tall kicking was done against the umpire who was from Hope, and this added rather than detracted from the interest of the game.

The gun contest followed, ten entries being made from Steele, Barnes and Griggs counties. J. M. Burrell and Geo. W. Bathey divided first money—$30, while H. B. Stimpington captured the second money—$15. The score in full:

The great bowery was in the meantime alive with dancers—the Cooperstown orchestra furnishing the music. In the evening the display of fireworks, lasting about an hour and a half, delighted young and old. And then the grand ball and home. The Valley City orchestra furnished the music for the ball and it was unusually good.

All in all it was the most successful celebration we ever witnessed in so small a town, the attendance being variously estimated at from 3,500 to 6,000 people.

CELEBRATION NOTES.
Hope sent over a big delegation which swelled the crowd considerably.

The Sanborn base ball nine, did some good work, and with a little practice together, will make an excellent nine. The pitching of Stroh was the chief feature of the game.

Three coaches were loaded down with visitors from Jamestown, Valley City, Sanborn, Dazey and other towns.

The unanimous verdict of the people is, that the parade was the best ever had seen in Dakota.

Not a single accident occurred.

Burrell avenue presented a pleasing spectacle, being lined on either side by trees, which were hauled into town from the river by a number of our rustling farmers.

The Valley City Orchestra furnished fine music for the ball in the evening. The crowd was too much for the hall but everybody seemed to enjoy themselves.

Maynard Crane, H. B. Stimpington, Alex. Glass, John McDermott and several others worked faithfully to prepare the grounds, buildings, etc., and are entitled to great credit.

Prof. Hodge with H. G. Pickett organized the Callithumplians, and made that feature a great success.

Knud Thompson did not have a dress parade horse, but he made a boss marshal just the same.

The Valley City band immediately upon their arrival were placed in a wagon by themselves and in the custody of the sheriff. What the band boys had done to deserve this we don't know. Probably it was feared that the blind pig would get after them unless they were protected.

There was not one intoxicated or riotous person in town.

The Valley City band have improved greatly since we heard them a year ago, and reflect credit upon themselves and their town.

The great Sioux warriors Sknoatoyouwilllose yourhair and Giveemoneofeyergafforyouwillgetabitintheheck took part in the parade and attracted considerable attraction.

Harry Pickett's "Old Gold" record 19.36 "bound for time and eternity," attracted attention. Old gold is a brindle ox that trotted along in the procession drawing a sulky like the rest of the trotters.

Johnee Chinaman caught on to a Melican girl and joined the Callithumplan parade completely bubbling over with patriotism.

The marshals of the day say that for the large number present, a more orderly and well behaved class of citizens never assembled in the United States.

Percy Trubshaw appeared as a wild Injun, Bob Hornby had his girl out as a goddess of liberty, while he was a Chinaman, and Ri Robinson led the COUENIX horse clad in red, white and blue.

The Valley City people generally staid quietly at home. A few went up to the cemetery and sat on the graves of their departed enemies, but otherwise no unusual hilarity prevailed.

The Steele county people turned out well. There was Jacobson, Walden, Ed. McMahon, Luce, Merrill and all of the other Hope boys, with their wives and families.

We had heard that Dazey would celebrate at the river. Well it didn't. Capt. Patison had the town to himself. Al. Clendenning, Nels Larson, Holliday, Barrett, Flagler, Capt. Daker, Charley Welland, Treat, Knudson, W. J. Wheeler, and most of their wives and families were on deck.

The Congregational pavilion was filled with "fair" women, who sold ice-cream and cake remorselessly. The sign was artistic, and painted by the indefatigable Mrs. Dr. Kerr.

The Baptist refreshment stand was liberally patronized, and was conducted by C. T. Whidden.

Ward's place was a crnsh all day. In the morning he was surrounded by a sea of lemonade, etc., at night he was sitting in "chicken feed" up to his neck.

The Robinsons were turning an honest penny at the restaurant and in the grounds. Their places were well patronized.

At one time it looked as if we should carry out the programme and kill an umpire. Ed. J. McMahon was the man and his good looks saved him. The Sanborn club thought him "frank"; the Hope club thought him all right. The general public thought that a Cooperstown man should have umpired the game, and it would have been better.

Among the banners accompanying the displays in the procession were: "J. Retzlaff, dealer in offal of all description."

The Farmers Mutual Protective Association was represented by half a dozen armed farmers standing off the insurance agents. "You make me tired."

The banner in the associated press wagon advertised the blind pig column. The corpse of the blind pig was surmounted by the placard: "Died from Frost. Funeral sermon by Rev. Wm. H. Francis. He was sired by No License out of Dam Poor Whiskey, Bred by Blindiverjobergson."

A hoghead with a rusty stove pipe in it represented the Hope(less) extension of the Manitoba railroad. The director's car followed with some hard looking citizens representing Peter Holland, Thayer, Smart, and other boomers.

Do not forget the bowery dance in Cooperstown Saturday afternoon and evening. A ball game between the Hannaford and home nine will also take place, and a pleasant time is on the tapis. Every body invited.
