The Scooper and Pocahontas Start Up To-Day.

The Chieftain and Gilpin to Follow.

Mining Notes and Transfers.

THE SCOOPER.

On Yankee hill, just east of the Robert E. Lee mine, is the Scooper, which formerly attracted much attention from the reports of rich ore found in it. For some unaccountable reason the mine was but slightly worked after the reported rich strikes. The principal work was done in Philadelphia, where the company was organized and where for a time the stock sold rapidly. The eastern sharks no doubt made considerable money from this manipulation, furnished none to put the mine in shape and then condemned the whole thing as "another Colorado failure." It is rather amusing to think that eastern stockholders, who put out money in four per cent. bonds and pay a premium for the investment, mining properties that are at the present time attracting considerable attention, is the Black Diamond, located on Sheep mountain, and within twenty-five feet of the late strike in the Robinson mine. This property has a fine timbered shaft, and is at the present time twenty-nine feet deep. Late assays show seventy ounces of silver and a small percentage of lead. It is on the same belt as the Trophy and Black Dragon. The owners, Messrs. Harry and Warren Woods, are well known in Leadville, and their many friends will be pleased to learn that ere long they will rank among the bonanza kings of Ten Mile mining district.

Notice.

LEADVILLE, November 15, 1880.

The officers and members of "E" company, C. N. G., are hereby ordered to assemble at the armory, Sixth street, on Wednesday evening, November 17, at half-past seven, agreeable to General Order No. 7, for inspection and muster.

FRANCIS ROSE, Captain Commanding.

A Leg Broken.

A man, whose name could not be ascertained, broke a horse's leg near the depot yesterday morning, by throwing a stone at the animal. It seems the man became exasperated at some act of stubbornness on the part of the horse, and secured the missile and hurled it at the equine with the result stated above. Several parties witnessed the affair and great indignation was expressed.

should expect to receive back dividends on ten millions of dollars from an investment of a few thousands.

Well, regarding the Scooper, there is at last some work to be done. A reasonable working capital has at last been raised and

THE CHIEFTAIN.

The Chieftain mine, which adjoins the Scooper, is also owned mostly in Philadelphia by the Argent Silver Mining company. The management of this property has been much the same as that of the Scooper—a little work done and scarcely any money furnished. This company has also been awakened from its lethargy by George Daly, and is now raising funds. The mine will be started up in a few days. Already the Chieftain has furnished considerable ore for the smelters and can beyond doubt be worked to a profit.

THE GILPIN.

George Daly yesterday sent over to Ten Mile a force of men to at once start up work on the Gilpin mine, in Mayflower gulch. This mine has an immense body of galena ore, and while not of high grade in silver, is a valuable ore to the Robinson smelter, to furnish lead for smelting the Robinson ore. The Gilpin has been incorporated into a stock company, with a capital stock of five hundred thousand dollars. The mine will be worked steadily all winter.

She Poured Oil on the Fire.

Another accident, illustrating the danger of using coal oil as a means of hastening the progress of a fire, occurred at No. 205 West Third street, yesterday morning. A Miss Newman was building a fire at the time, and as it did not burn fast enough to suit her, she poured a quantity of oil upon the blaze, which flashed up and burnt her face severely. The usual remedies were applied and the young lady is doing comfortably.

A Defective Sidewalk.

About eight o'clock, Sunday evening, Mr. Landers, formerly connected with the Western Union Telegraph office of this city, and a brother to the late democratic candidate for governor in Indiana, was seriously injured while passing in front of the court house, where the street is filled with debris of all descriptions. Mr. Landers has the misfortune of possessing a wooden leg, and while walking on a loose board slipped and fell into an excavation several feet in depth, breaking his remaining leg.

He was immediately extricated from his painful position, and Dr. Steinau was sent for—that gentleman setting the limb. Mr. Landers will be laid up some time by this unfortunate accident.

POCAHONTAS.

It is good news that the Pocahontas mine, on Carbonate hill, belonging to the Carbonate Hill Consolidated company, is to be started up today. Funds have been raised to work the property vigorously. The property consists of "Mining Notes."

The Perley Gulch Mine—On the Arkansas, a short distance below Leadville, is located the Perley gulch mine. It is owned by J. R. Perley, the well known stage driver, who took up the claim last spring. Perley will be remembered as the driver that a year ago drove stage over Weston pass. He was at one time reported lost with the entire load of passengers. This spring he took up the present gulch mine and has been at work in opening it up all summer. He has done some sluicing and his work has paid him well. He has put it in shape so that next season undoubtedly he will derive a handsome revenue from it. Yesterday he showed the reporter a vial containing over three ounces of handsome nuggets of gold that was a small portion of the last clean-up.

Iron vs. Tucson—This important lawsuit comes up in Denver before the United States Circuit court this week. Erth Stevens and Leiter are now here to look personally after the interests of the Iron mine in the case.

Found Dead.

The following postal card, received in this office last evening, explains itself:

Found dead, about two miles west of Chapman, Merrick county, Nebraska, the body of a stranger, about thirty-five years of age, five feet ten inches high, weighed about one hundred and seventy-five pounds, light complexion, brown hair, blue eyes, heavy moustache—colored black, high cheek bones, broad face and prominent forehead; had on a navy blue woolen shirt with wide collar; light blue silk necktie; light gray woolen undershirt; light cassimere pants, with dark stripe; dark red socks, with black toe, sole and heel; blue cord along the right side of foot; number seven leather tongue boots, sewed, Napoleon taps, nailed with round-headed nails, partly worn; large gold ring, with garnet or amethyst seal, indented with figure of a man's head, worn on little finger of right hand; upper front tooth on left side gone, and one adjoining it much decayed. Information concerning his identity should be conveyed to Dan Hopkins, sheriff, Central City, Merrick county, Nebraska.

handsome silver cake basket. The presents are all of more than usual intrinsic value, some of them being quite expensive, and all of a useful nature. A few are ludicrous, and their drawing set the house in roars. For instance, an old grey-headed gentleman drew a hoopskirt; another, a pair of corsets, and Charley Thompson, the actor, a skirt.

The entertainment is of the best order and well worth a visit. The programme is to be changed every other night.

The Fire on Fryer Hill—On the Little Chief four heavy blasts have been fired, and a fifth is to be fired to-day. These, with the smaller shots exploded, are said to have closed all openings, and that there is now no draft from the Ten Mile Notes—From a friend at Robinson's camp we obtain the following mining notes :

The town of Robinson is booming, and bids fair to be a big town. The railroad is graded as far as Kokomo, but the bridges are not yet all completed. It is very doubtful if the line is completed before next spring.

The snow is from eighteen inches to two feet deep here.

Mike McCormick, an old-timer, well-known as Rocky Mountain Mike, fell down dead in Kokomo last Wednesday. Whiskey is supposed to be the chief cause of his death.

The Daisy—A rich body of ore has been struck in the Daisy mine, situated about three hundred and fifty feet north of the Hoodoo mine. This mine was located nearly two years ago as the Miners' Delight, but has recently been re-located. The ore contains a big per cent of silver.

Washington Lode--Situating on the eastern slope of Sheep mountain, is reported, the particulars of which have not yet come to hand. An assay of 9,000 ounces is reported.

The Black Diamond--Among the important north slope of Sheep mountain, a vein of mineral, which shows up well, has been disclosed.

Crown Point.--In the Crown Point a double shift is working to out a vein of mineral, the apex of which has been disclosed in the Belcher shaft which is expected to be both a larger and richer vein than the one which has been struck. About twelve miles below Robinson's camp, on the east side of the Ten Mile creek, considerable work has been done. Amongst the best claims is the Reno lode, which has a vein of Galena one foot wide. The Cameron lode, the Belle of the West, and the York State are also good lodes. Work on these mines has had to be suspended until next spring on account of the
